Crystal,

After evaluating the Ranking Criteria, our Total Ranking Score is in the 0-9 column. What we have done: As soon as we found the spill, which was within minutes of when it started, we got RT Trucking to pick up all of the oil that they could. Right after that we completely covered all contaminated soil with Gator, an oil neutralizing compound, and tilled it all in. Two nights later it rained and we repeated this process two more times and then covered it again with Gator.

My plan now is to wait until the week of August first and obtain samples and take them to Cardinal Labs in Hobbs, New Mexico and evaluate the results. We will copy you at this email with the lab results.

Please contact me however is most convenient with any questions or suggestions.

Hello Sonny,

Attached are the electronic version of the handouts I gave you when you were here in person. As discussed we look forward to reviewing your delineation and your work plan.

Thank you,
