

Volume Calculations

The volume of the release was calculated utilizing tank gauge readings. The day before the oil tank had 281 barrels and in the morning after the release was discovered the tank had 152 barrels. $281-152=129$ barrels.