Hi Carie,

We do have an approved APD for the Tex Mack #262 and it is Non-Standard. We submitted a NSL application to the NMOCD on 10/4/11. COG owns 100% of the Tex Mack for the Yeso formation, therefore we did not have to notify any operators or WI Owners outside of that formation. (I believe the Wilson #3 is a San Andres well)

COG has not yet drilled this well, it is currently on hold as of now.

Thank you,

Kelly Holly

TC,

Per our phone conversation, I am notifying the NMOCD that Alamo Permian Resources has not been notified by COG regarding the Tex Mack #262 drilling location.

Thanks,

Carie Stoker

Are you aware Alamo's Wilson #3 (2310' FSL & 1575' FEL) location is 15' from COG Tex Mack #262 (2310' FSL & 1590' FEL) J 2 17S-31E. OCD is not aware of documentation between operators within the same Unit Letter. Currently, Alamo is waiting on OCD's approval to build the location.

Thank you for your cooperation.
