This well has not complied with the 5 year MIT requirement for an injection well rule 19.15.26.11.A(2). The last MIT was conducted in 2001.

Because this well has been out of compliance with 19.15.26.11.A(2) for a total of 7 years and casing integrity cannot be verified; an MIT is required to verify the casing integrity prior to placing this well on production.

This well was drilled as an injection well therefore a C-104 for production is required; File a current C104 and completion report for review and approval before returning to production.
