The subject well was open to the sales line, but did not build up enough pressure to sell any gas. A slick line truck determined that the the tubing was plugged at 60', causing the well to log off. A rig will be scheduled to pull the tubing and do what ever else is necessary to return the well to production. This well was sold to Thompson Engineering effective April 1, 2008 but is awaiting approval from the Jicarilla Tribe before the change in operatorship is effective.
