TO THE
MEMBERS OF THE COMMISSION ON THE
STATUS OF WOMEN

Dear Members of the Commission:

I am pleased to have the opportunity to discuss with you the work of the National Commission on the Status of Women.

The Commission was established in 1961 to study the status of women in the United States and to make recommendations for their improvement.

Since

its formation, the Commission has held numerous public hearings and has received many suggestions from women and men.

Very truly,
Sincerely,
John F. Kennedy

John F. Kennedy, President

The Commission has been very fortunate to have had the cooperation and assistance of many individuals and organizations. We have held public hearings in many cities and have received many suggestions from women and men. We have also conducted extensive research and have held many meetings with experts in various fields. We are now in the process of preparing our report and will submit it to the President and the Congress in the near future.

We are very grateful for the support and assistance of all those who have helped us in our work.

Very truly,
Sincerely,
John F. Kennedy
