Dear Sir:

We have your letter of September 29, which I had been instructed to hold for further communication from our District III office.

We note on the scout report for 23 November that you spudded your No. 1-A Scott on 19 November. Apparently you have done this without approval of the Oil Conservation Commission.

In the event there has been a misunderstanding, your attention is directed to Rule 104 of the Commission's Rules and Regulations. Should Mr. Greer's report not be favorable, it will be necessary for you to come before the Commission for open hearing for approval of the location you have spudded.

Very truly yours,
