1900-1901

The first year of the new century was marked by a series of events which were of great importance to the world. The most notable of these was the outbreak of the Russo-Japanese War, which began in 1904 and ended in 1905. This war was the first time that an Asian power, Japan, had defeated a European power, Russia. The result was a great increase in the prestige of Japan and a great decrease in the prestige of Russia. Other important events of the year included the signing of the Treaty of Portsmouth, which ended the war, and the death of Queen Victoria.

The year 1900-1901 was a year of great change and progress. It was a year when the world began to move towards a new era of peace and cooperation.
