Re: Navajo Federal #27 Well

Attention: Mr. Joe C. Steely
Office Manager

Mr. Steely:

Both Bob Dintelman and I have been trying to get this well released from Shut-In so that the necessary test could be made. Quite some time ago Mr. Arnold, District Supervisor, of the Oil Commission, had given me to understand that the well would be released. However, Mr. Dintelman was unable to get verification of this from any El Paso personnel that he contacted.

I talked to Mr. Arnold today and he assured me he would notify Mr. Lesperance with El Paso Natural Gas Company that the well is released from Shut-In so that the test can be taken.

My sincere apologies for not being able to get this test sooner.

Sincerely,

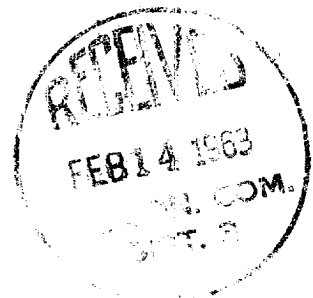

B. H. Keyes

P. S. Mr. Lesperance just called and said the well will be re-leased February 13th and Shut-In on February 15th.

the first two years after the onset of symptoms. The mean age at onset was 60 years (range 47–80). The mean duration of illness was 19 months (range 1–48). The mean age at death was 65 years (range 50–80).

The most common presenting symptom was weight loss, which occurred in 10 patients (50%). Other symptoms included weakness, fatigue, and decreased appetite. In all cases, the symptoms were insidious in onset and progressive in course. The physical examination was normal in all cases. The laboratory studies showed a mild anemia in 10 patients (50%), leukopenia in 8 patients (40%), and thrombocytopenia in 6 patients (30%). The serum electrolytes, renal function tests, and liver function tests were normal in all cases.

The chest radiograph was abnormal in 10 patients (50%). The abnormalities included bilateral hilar enlargement, bilateral infiltrates, and bilateral pleural effusions. The abdominal radiograph was abnormal in 8 patients (40%). The abnormalities included splenomegaly, hepatomegaly, and lymphadenopathy. The bone marrow biopsy was abnormal in 10 patients (50%). The abnormalities included hyperplasia of the myeloid series, atrophy of the erythroid series, and infiltration by atypical lymphocytes.

The histopathologic findings of the lymph node biopsy were diagnostic of CLL. The characteristic features included a diffuse proliferation of small, mature-appearing lymphocytes with clonal B-cell immunophenotype. The median survival time was 24 months (range 12–48 months).

In conclusion, CLL can present with a variety of clinical and laboratory abnormalities. The diagnosis is based on the characteristic histopathologic findings of the lymph node biopsy. The prognosis is poor, with a median survival time of 24 months.
