RE: Application for Spacing Exception

San Juan County, New Mexico

Dear Sir:

Application is herewith made for an exception to the New Mexico spacing rule that applies to oil and gas wells. Although the above-referenced well location has not been officially inspected, the U.S.G.S. and the B.L.M. both looked at it on November 13, 1979 (the day they inspected some other Hill & Llewellyn wells) and they are of the opinion that, because of topography, this is the best possible location, and that a New Mexico spacing exception would be in order. The pre-drill inspection has been set for December 12, 1979.

Enclosed are duplicate copies of the location and elevation plat (showing offset ownership) and the applicable topographic map (showing location and access road).

Appropriate waivers will be sent under separate cover by Gabriel Bjerke (landman, Supron Energy Corporation in Dallas), who confirmed this matter with me in telephone conversations November 29, 1979 and December 3, 1979, and John Ahlm, who confirmed this matter with me in telephone conversations November 30, 1979 and December 3, 1979.

In a telephone conversation today, I discussed the spacing exception with Larry Van Ryan of Southland Royalty Company. We agreed on the procedure of sending notification per certified mail (return receipt will be sent to the New Mexico Oil & Gas Conservation Commission, Santa Fe).

Should you require any additional information in order to approve this Application for Spacing Exception, please advise.

Please note that the above-referenced well location involves federal minerals, thus Farmington U.S. Geological Survey requires a copy of your approval of the spacing exception.

Very truly yours,
