

April 3, 1964

Mr. Emery C. Arnold
Oil Conservation Commission
1000 Rio Brazos Road
Aztec, New Mexico

Dear Mr. Arnold:

A Regulator has been installed on the following well since the 1963 annual deliverability test:

John A. Egan # 6 Hammond, O-25-27-8

A comparison between the 1963 annual deliverability test and the 1964 annual deliverability test is as follows:

6 Hammond
1963: 260	1964: 402

Since the 1964 annual deliverability test more truly reflects the deliverability of this well please consider the 1964 test also as 1963 re-test and make allowable change to the 1964 annual test effective February 1, 1964.

Very truly yours,

John A. Egan

By: Wayne B. Smith, Agent

OIL CONSERVATION COMMISSION

1000 RIO BRAZOS ROAD

AZTEC, NEW MEXICO

April 8, 1964

*John A. Egan
c/o W.B. Smith, Agent
Farmington, New Mexico*

Dear Mr. Smith:

*Reference is made to your letter of April 3, 1964 concerning the 1964 deliverability test for the John A. Egan
#6 Hammond well located in Unit 0, Section 25-27N-8W.*

*The deliverability in the proration formula for this well will be corrected to the 402 figure as shown by your test;
however the effective date will be 60 days prior to the date of receipt of the test which is April 6, 1964. This date would be approximately February 7, 1964.*

Yours very truly

*Emery C. Arnold
Supervisor, District #3*

ECA:ks

INTERNATIONAL MECHANISM FOR THE PROMOTION OF
HUMAN RIGHTS

The Commission on Human Rights, established in 1946, was the first international body to deal with human rights. It was created by the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. The Commission's mandate was to promote and protect human rights throughout the world. It did this by receiving reports from governments, conducting investigations, and making recommendations. The Commission's work was carried out by its various organs, including the Sub-Commission on Human Rights, the Human Rights Committee, and the High Commissioner for Human Rights. The Commission's efforts have been instrumental in the development of international human rights law and the promotion of human rights worldwide.

1. The Commission on Human Rights was established in 1946 by the Economic and Social Council of the United Nations. It was the first international body to deal with human rights. The Commission's mandate was to promote and protect human rights throughout the world. It did this by receiving reports from governments, conducting investigations, and making recommendations. The Commission's work was carried out by its various organs, including the Sub-Commission on Human Rights, the Human Rights Committee, and the High Commissioner for Human Rights. The Commission's efforts have been instrumental in the development of international human rights law and the promotion of human rights worldwide.