Dear Mr. Wardinsky:

Regarding your July 23, 2002 letter referencing the above listed pressure observation well; the monitoring information you provided will be accepted instead of a mechanical integrity (MIT) test at this time. While the well bore condition remains the same and you continue to monitor pressures using the same schedule you submitted, an MIT will not be required at this time. If at any time there is a change in pressure a decision will be made at that time concerning a MIT. Please note the OCD may at any time request you provide the information obtained during your monitoring.

If you have any questions, please call me at 505-334-6178, ext. 16.

Sincerely yours,
