It is of the greatest importance to have a complete history of the well. Please state in detail the dates of drilling, together with the reasons for the work and its results. If there were any changes made in the casing, state fully, and if any casing was "sidetracked", or left in the well, give its size and location. If the well has been dynamited, give date, size, position, number of shots. If plugs or bridges were put in to test for water, state kind of material used, position, and number of plugs or balling of shots.

1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem clearly. This involves identifying the symptoms, the scope of the problem, and the impact it is having on the organization. 2. The second step is to gather information about the problem. This involves talking to people who are involved in the problem, looking at data, and researching the problem. 3. The third step is to analyze the information. This involves identifying the causes of the problem, the factors that are contributing to the problem, and the potential solutions. 4. The fourth step is to develop a plan of action. This involves identifying the steps that need to be taken to solve the problem, the resources that will be needed, and the timeline for the solution. 5. The fifth step is to implement the plan. This involves putting the plan into action and monitoring the progress. 6. The sixth step is to evaluate the results. This involves assessing the effectiveness of the solution and identifying any areas for improvement.	1. The first step in the process of identifying a problem is to define the problem clearly.
