Mike:

You have asked for back-up information relative to the statements made in my December 31 letter to Ms. Bailey. Without waiving our attorney/client privilege, I am forwarding copies of emails to me from Jason South, Endurance's landman, containing most of the information addressed in my letter. Included in the first email are three AFEs, one of which applies to Endurance's proposed Starcaster well in Section 18. Mr. South's email also identifies the names of the Chevron people with whom Endurance principals met on November 20.

In addition to the Starcaster well proposal, Endurance proposed a trade on other acreage, and included two other AFEs. Included in Mr. South email is a slide presentation of discussion points relative to Section 18 (Bell Lake proposal) that were presented at the November 20 meeting.

By separate email I will forward a copy of an email agenda sent by the Chevron personnel for the November 20 meeting. The second topic of the agenda dealt with the Bell Lake proposal.

Finally, also by separate email I will forward a copy of a December 19 email from Manny Sirgo, Endurance Vice President-Operations, and engineer to Becky Wistaff, higher Chevron manager, attempting to induce further discussion on the Starcaster proposal.

I am sending a copy of this email to Ms. Bailey through Florene Davidson.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Ernie: I tried to reach you by telephone. Please give me a call about your letter. It is not consistent with what my contacts are telling me. I need more detail about who was involved in the referenced discussions, what AFE was presented and to whom, particularly since no document is attached to your letter today.
