

- proposed wells with black lines. It shows that the structure is relatively consistent across the proposed unit and dips slightly to the south and southeast in the area.
- b. Exhibit B.2 is a Net Porosity Map for the 3rd Bone Spring Sand formation. It shows that the formation is relatively uniform across the proposed units, as the closest log control suggests a range of net porosity between ~100ft and 200ft. This map also identifies the area of interest for the two proposed units and wells.
 - c. Exhibit B.3 is a Reference Map for the Stratigraphic Cross Section. It identifies the cross-section wells in proximity to the proposed wells with a gray line running from A to A', and the cross-section well names.
 - d. Exhibit B.4 is a Stratigraphic Cross Section hung on the top of the Wolfcamp formation. The well logs on the cross-section give a representative sample of the 3rd Bone Spring formation in the area, which is the target zone for the proposed wells. The wells logs also show the formation is relatively consistent across the area. The target zone is identified with an arrow and outlined in red.
 - e. Exhibit B.5 is the Parkway 16 - 17 Development Plan, which includes a wine rack diagram. The diagram identifies the proposed 2-mile wells in the N/2 of Sections 16 and 17, the area of interest for the two proposed units. The area of interest is identified with red shading.
4. Based upon my study as illustrated in these exhibits, knowledge of the geology in this area, and education and training, it is my expert opinion that:
- a. The two horizontal spacing units are justified from a geologic standpoint.
 - b. There are no structural impediments or faulting that will interfere with horizontal development.

c. Each quarter quarter section in the unit will contribute more or less equally to production.

5. The preferred well orientation in this area is east to west. This is due to the fact that regional max horizontal stress orientation in this area runs approximately north to south.

6. The producing interval for each of these wells will be orthodox and will comply with the Division's set back requirements.
