Case No. 21261
Order No. 21335

ORDER

On April 10, 2020, Centennial Resource Production, LLC (“Centennial”) filed an application (“Application”) to rescind eight applications for permits to drill (“APDs”) issued to V-F Petroleum, Inc. (“VFP”). The Application alleged that VFP violated 19.15.16.15(A)(1) NMAC by submitting APDs that falsely certified that VFP either owned an interest or had a contract with a person who owned an interest in the affected tract. In response, VFP filed a pre-hearing statement acknowledging that the APDs would expire on May 21, 2020, and asserting that it had no intention of drilling the wells prior to that date.

The Oil Conservation Division has determined that the APDs have expired and VFP has not commenced to drill the wells. Accordingly, the relief requested in the Application cannot be granted, and the Application is moot.

IT IS HEREBY ORDERED that Centennial’s Application is dismissed.
