Re: Case No.13466/Order No. R-12354/JTD Resources, LLC

Dear Mr. Fesmire:

One of the parties pooled by the above order was Chevron U.S.A. Inc. However, JTD Resources, LLC and Chevron U.S.A. Inc. have now reached voluntary agreement, and the order is no longer effective against Chevron U.S.A. Inc.

Very truly yours,

James Bruce

Re: Order No. R-12354/JTD Resources, LLC
Order No. R-12364/JTD Resources, LLC

Dear Mr. Fesmire:

JTD Resources, LLC hereby requests that the well commencement deadlines in the above orders be extended, as follows:

Order No. R-12354: Extend from August 31, 2005 to October 31, 2005

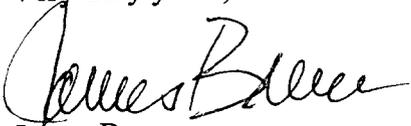

Order No. R-12364: Extend from September 10, 2005 to September 30, 2005

The reasons for the request are as follows: JTD Resources, LLC intends to drill the wells back-to-back. The Round-Up Well No. 1 (Order No. R-12354) was to be drilled first. However, the surface owner is obstructing entrance to the drillsite, and an injunction may need to be obtained in District Court. Therefore, a two month extension is requested for that well.

JTD Resources, LLC now plans to commence the Salem Well No. 1 (Order No. R-12364) first. Patterson Drilling had informed my client that the rig would move this week, but a few days ago said the rig wouldn't move onto location until August 30th. Just to be safe, JTD Resources, LLC requests a twenty day extension, in case the rig move is delayed again.

Thank you for your consideration of this matter.

Very truly yours,
