

Koch Exploration Company, LLC

Summary

- The drilling of the requested exception locations will result in incremental recovery and the prevention of waste
- New wells at the exception locations will protect the correlative rights of our working and mineral interest owners
- Infill at the exception locations will continue the current drilling pattern
- Exception locations have been granted in 18 other non-standard spacing units without special hearings
- The drilling of the exception locations will not adversely impact existing wells based on past experience
- The drilling of the exception locations is economically beneficial