

This is a detailed map of the Gulf of Mexico region, specifically focusing on oil fields and company territories. The map is divided into a grid of small sections, each labeled with a number and a company name. Key companies include Chevron, Conoco, Phillips, and others. The map also shows major cities like Houston, New Orleans, and Mexico City. A large 'OIL CONSERVATION DIVISION' stamp is visible across the center of the map. The map is a complex representation of the oil industry in the Gulf of Mexico, showing the distribution of oil fields and the territories of various companies. The map is a valuable resource for understanding the oil industry in the Gulf of Mexico.