Clarification/Verification: Division policy for exceptions to the salt protection casing string requirements contained within Division Order No. R-111-P in the "Potash Area". Part C(4) of the decretory portion of said Order No. R-111-P authorizes the District supervisor to waive such required casing string. The last waiver sought by an operator was back in April through the hearing process (see Order No. R-10598 issued to Pennwell in Case 11505) . Is this policy still in effect or what is the current policy? If we still require a hearing should we be thinking about changing or modifying our position to better serve industry?

Pennwell Energy, Inc. and Pogo Production Company have both approached the Division for such exceptions.

All to be set for hearing
