

Attached to Assignment and Conveyance dated September 13, 1984 by and between The Prudential Insurance Company of America and Doyle Hartman

The word "Assignor" as used in this Exhibit C means the owner of the working interest or operating rights under the oil and gas leases and operating agreements. Unless explicitly stated otherwise the recording references used herein are to the Public Records of the County and State where the tract described lies. All limitations of depth herein referred to are measured from the surface of the tract described. The fractional share of production allocated to each scheduled tract is the net fraction of the total oil, gas and other minerals to be produced from such tract which was owned by the Assignor immediately prior to execution of the Assignment to which this Exhibit is attached. In arriving at such net fraction in every instance involving a sliding scale royalty due the United States of America, the interest has been calculated on the basis of the minimum royalty provided by the lease.
