Good morning Ms. Karrigan:

Thank you for your timely response.

The available information indicates OPERATOR has met the requirements of 19.15.29 NMAC and no further corrective action is required. NMOCD considers 1RP-4754 closed. This determination by the Oil Conservation Division does not relieve Operator of responsibility should future information indicate a threat to ground water, surface water, human health, or the environment. Furthermore, it does not relieve Operator of responsibility for compliance with any federal, state, or local laws and/or regulations.

Like approval from BLM required.

Thanks,

Olivia Yu
Environmental Specialist

OCD approval does not relieve the operator of liability should their operations fail to adequately investigate and remediate contamination that may pose a threat to ground water, surface water, human health or the environment. In addition, OCD approval does not relieve the operator of responsibility for compliance with any other federal, state, local laws and/or regulations.

Olivia, Shelly,

Thank you for the help on this. I was able to locate photos from the initial discovery. The C141 has been updated with additional photos.

Callie

Beware of links/attachments.

Good morning Ms. Karrigan:

Thank you for the update. I will close 1RP-4754 when photo documentation, taken on the day of discovery, are submitted verifying the change in release volume.

Thanks,
Olivia

Subject: C141 1RP-4754 Final

Olivia, Shelly,

I am currently going through our pending open releases and wanted to discuss 1RP-4754. The initial C141 stated a volume of 193 bbls, which according to the Operator and our Operations group, was an error in calculation due to a false tank reading. I'd like to respectfully request to amend the released volume to 28 bbls. A hauler was able to recover the majority of the release due to standing fluids and the rock in containment disposed of and replaced.

This release was prior to my employment here in January, I will look for original photos of the release and provide these to you both. I just wanted to reach out on the path forward for closure.

Thank you for your help,

Callie
