Laura,

The well has no report of beneficial use (production) since 12/1992. Which means it has been out of compliance for some time. The reason the TA status was marked out was because of the perf records were not available. Most likely BLM dropped the ball. Looks like you have supplied those records. They will be reprocessed and filed to help complete the well history. Thank you.

And yes, the well is now in compliance until 02/22/2018. It is shown as "Shut-In" which is not quite correct, and would have been given TA status had the recorded information not been lacking.

The core value of Legacy's attention to this well is commendable.

Good morning Paul,

I've attached the subsequent sundry I submitted to TA the subject well. It was Accepted for Record on 08/31/17 and comments were made as you'll see.

My question to you is: By Accepting this sundry for Record does that mean the well is "approved to be in TA status"? I'm confused because where I entered that the "Well is now TA'd" is marked thru but then we have until 02/22/18 to submit an NOI to recomplete or P&A which tells me that's when the TA expires.

Please clarify.

Also, attached is another subsequent sundry amending a subsequent sundry the previous operator submitted lacking perf information per your comment on the above sundry. It was submitted electronically on 07/14/17 and is currently on step 2 of 7, EC# 381366.

Best regards,
