 Semi-Annual well status report.

Detailed account of work done, nature and quantity of materials used, and results obtained.

Well status is the same as reported on Oil Conservation Commission form C-103, approved September 19, 1962. The subject well is now standing and on frequent checks, no surface pressure has been noted. Studies are in progress for a cooperative secondary recovery project with other operators in the area and should the project materialize, the well will be included.
