Case No. 22378

MEWBOURNE OIL COMPANY'S EXPEDITED MOTION FOR CONTINUANCE

Mewbourne Oil Company ("Mewbourne") requests that the New Mexico Oil Conservation Division ("Division") continue this case to the June 2, 2022 hearing docket. In support of this motion, Mewbourne states the following.

1. This case is currently set for a contested hearing on April 21, 2022, with testimony and exhibits due on April 14, 2022. In its application, Siana claims that Mewbourne's accounting practices regarding the Inland 26/23 B2OJ State Com 1H and Inland 26/23 B2PI State Com 1H wells failed to comply with the terms of Order Nos. R-21292 and R-21293.

2. In an effort to obtain information regarding Siana's accounting claims, Mewbourne requested the Division issue a subpoena to Siana for the production of documents. The subpoena was issued and served on Siana on March 14, 2022. See 3/14/22 Subpoena (Exh. A).

3. Siana responded to the subpoena on April 1, 2022 and failed to produce any of the documents requested. See Response to Mewbourne's Subpoena for Production of Documents (Exh. B). Instead, Siana stated that it intends to rely on documents it has received from Mewbourne but did not produce or identify any of the specific documents. See Exh. B at 1, 2.

4. In its response to Mewbourne's Request No. 1, that Siana produce all documents it relies on to support its claim that Mewbourne's "Authorizations for Expenditures and related cash calls were inflated because they were based on pre-Covid-19 prices," Siana responded that "[i]t is a well-known fact by all in the industry that prices for drilling and completion dropped beginning in March 2020, as a result of Covid-19 mandates and the contemporaneous drop in oil prices. Siana will present testimony in this regard.” See Exh. B at 1.

5. Siana’s response demonstrates that it intends to present testimony at the contested hearing in this matter on matters of opinion concerning Mewbourne’s conduct related to Authorizations for Expenditure, joint interest billings, and other financial and accounting practices undertaken by Mewbourne under Order Nos. R-21292 and R-21293.

6. Due to the nature of the claims at issue and Siana’s failure to provide documents responsive to the March 14th Subpoena, Mewbourne intends to request that the Division issue a subpoena allowing Mewbourne to take the deposition of a Siana representative to explain the areas of testimony Siana intends to offer at a hearing in this matter. See Proposed Subpoena for Deposition Duces Tecum (Exh. C).

7. Although the pre-hearing order requires the parties to produce exhibits on April 14, 2022, Mewbourne requires additional time to depose a Siana representative and prepare for the hearing. As a result, Mewbourne requests that this case be continued to the Division’s June 2, 2022 docket and that the Division vacate the pre-hearing order.

8. Counsel for Siana was contacted regarding this motion and opposes Mewbourne’s request.

For the foregoing reasons, Mewbourne requests that the Division continue the contested hearing in this case to June 2, 2022 and issue a new prehearing order.

Respectfully submitted,

RESPONSE TO MEWBOURNE'S SUBPOENA FOR PRODUCTION OF DOCUMENTS

Applicant hereby response to Mewbourne's Subpoena for the Production of Documents issued March 14, 2022.

1. All documents Siana Oil & Gas Co. ("Siana") is relying on to support its claim that Mewbourne Oil Company's ("Mewbourne") Authorizations for Expenditures and related cash calls were inflated because they were based on pre-Covid-19 prices.

RESPONSE: At this time, Siana has not identified any documents that it intends to rely on to support this claim other than AFEs, joint interest billings, and daily reports that Mewbourne has submitted to Applicant, which are already in Mewbourne's possession. Notably, Mewbourne has failed to comply with paragraph 24 of the orders at issue, regarding Actual Well Costs, and, therefore, Siana has been limited to review of joint interest billings and daily reports in its efforts to parse out the inflated costs imposed by Mewbourne. It is a well-known fact by all in the industry that prices for drilling and completion dropped beginning in March 2020, as a result of Covid-19 mandates and the contemporaneous drop in oil prices. Siana will present testimony in this regard. Siana will supplement its response to this subpoena if it learns of any documents that shed light on Mewbourne's imposition of estimated costs that did not reflect industry costs prevalent at the time of the election letter and drilling.

2. All documents Siana is relying on to support its claim that Mewbourne is imposing supervision charges that exceed those permitted by Oil Conservation Division Order Nos. R-21292 and R-21293.

RESPONSE: At this time, Siana has not identified any documents that it intends to rely on to support this claim other than joint interest billings and revenue statements that Mewbourne has issued to Siana, which are already in Mewbourne's possession. Notably, Mewbourne has failed to comply with paragraph 24 of the orders at issue, regarding Actual Well Costs, and, therefore, Siana has been limited to review of joint interest billings and revenue statements in its efforts to parse out the inflated costs imposed by Mewbourne, including supervision charges. Siana may create summary exhibits relating to its review of Mewbourne's joint interest billings and revenue statements. If and when Siana creates such exhibits, it will provide them to Mewbourne in a supplemental response to this request. Siana will further supplement its response if it learns of any other documents that are responsive to this request.
