V-F PETROLEUM INC.'S RESPONSE TO XTO ENERGY, INC.'S MOTION IN LIMINE TO EXCLUDE V-F'S EXHIBIT 10

V-F Petroleum Inc. ("V-F"), through its undersigned counsel, respectfully submits to the Oil Conservation Division ("Division" or "OCD") this Response ("Response") to XTO Energy, Inc.'s ("XTO") Motion in Limine to Exclude V-F's Exhibit 10 ("Motion"). In its Response, V-F provides the Division an Amended Hearing Packet in which XTO's 2026 Development Plan ("2026 POD") has been removed. The Amended Hearing Packet is attached hereto as Exhibit A. However, under current facts and circumstances of the proceedings in Case No. 26248, there now exists a central question and issue that the Division should consider and determine before it acts upon either V-F's original Hearing Packet that includes Exhibit 10 (the 2026 POD) or V-F's Amended Hearing Packet which excludes Exhibit 10, the question and issue being: Whether the law and principles of due process that support maintaining and preserving V-F's original Hearing Packet in the record provide the best approach for upholding a proper adjudication of XTO's application; or whether the Division should supplant and replace the original Hearing Packet with the V-F's Amened Hearing Packet based on the arguments XTO sets forth in its Motion.

Respectfully, V-F leaves it to the wisdom and discretion of the Division what action should be taken for the proper disposition of V-F's original Hearing Packet at this stage of the proceedings, whether it should be preserved of record or replaced. However, V-F requests that the Division, prior to issuing its decision, review and consider V-F's Response and its prayers for relief at the conclusion of its Response, which are provided as follows:

I. Introduction:

While preparing its exhibits for timely submission to the OCD pursuant to the Prehearing Order dated August 20, 2026, V-F reviewed what documents had been posted in Case No. 365 that would assist V-F and the OCD in the adjudication of Case No. 26248 by supporting V-F's position and concerns in the case. During its review of the OCD's public files, V-F came across previous development plans filed by XTO and XTO's most recent 2026 POD which directly pertains to XTO's application that requests to modify the established rules in order to accommodate XTO's 2026 POD. Thus, the 2026 POD is a central focus of XTO's application. Since the OCD file for Case No. 365 contained previous development plans and since an operator of a federal exploratory unit ("FEU") is required to periodically update the OCD and BLM files on an FEU, V-F was unaware that the 2026 POD had been posted by mistake. Because the document appeared on the Division's public website, V-F reasonably understood it to be a public document available for use as an exhibit in OCD Case No. 26248.

From XTO's Motion filed Friday, September 11, 2026, V-F has learned that the Division posted the document "unknowingly" and by mistake. V-F therefore seeks to proceed in the manner the Division determines as most appropriate under the law and rules, given the public disclosure of the 2026 POD and principles of due process and fairness necessary for a proper adjudication. Without conceding that the 2026 POD is or reflects a trade secret, that V-F acquired or used it improperly, or that the exhibit is irrelevant, V-F has prepared an amended set of exhibits that excludes the 2026 POD. That Amended Hearing Packet is attached as Exhibit A to this Response and offered to the Division as an option for replacing V-F's previously submitted Hearing Packet, should the Division decide replacing V-F's original Hearing Packet is the better approach after reviewing the facts, circumstances, and legal arguments provided herein. V-F maintains its position that, under current facts and circumstances, the inclusion of the 2026 POD in the record is relevant to a proper adjudication of XTO's application and hearing – a hearing initiated and requested by XTO -- and is necessary to uphold principles of due process.¹

Therefore, V-F respectfully asks the Division to determine the best and most judicious means of addressing Exhibit 10 and XTO's Motion, which V-F submits should include giving consideration to the retention of Exhibit 10 in the record, in order to protect due process and fundamental fairness for the contested hearing scheduled for September 15, 2026.

II. Facts and Background:

On June 8, 2026, XTO initiated the need for a thorough review of XTO's operations and plans for the Big Eddy FEU by filing a highly unusual and unconventional application seeking to extinguish, change, modify, and/or alter established Division rules that govern the approval of nonstandard spacing units at the boundary of FEUs and the approval of setbacks and nonstandard locations of wells within an FEU. Consequently, V-F, an offset owner entitled to notice, objected to XTO's application as an improper effort to engage in rulemaking and as a violation of correlative rights because the XTO's application seeks to extinguish established rights of offset owners at the boundary of the FEU and of nonparticipating owners within the FEU that have been granted to them by the existing rules through proper rulemaking procedures.

¹ See V-F's "Preliminary Objections" to XTO's Exhibits dated September 10, 2026, for legal analysis establishing why exhibits on which XTO relies for a final Division ruling in an adjudication should not be redacted and removed from the record of the hearing.

Accordingly, V-F considers XTO's 2026 POD relevant and important for placing XTO's requests in its proper context and for establishing V-F's position opposing the approval of XTO's application because the information in the 2026 POD highlights and addresses whether XTO's requests are necessary for the development of the FEU and whether the existing and established rules that currently maintain a proper balance of owners' rights should be extinguished and modified. V-F cited the beneficial use of Exhibit 10 on the cover sheet of its original Hearing Packet where it stated: "These Exhibits are excerpts of statutes, rules and illustrations submitted to facilitate clarification and understanding of questions during examination." V-F respectfully submits that the value of Exhibit 10 resides its being able to highlight and illustrate for the benefit of the OCD during cross-examination whether the established rules remain the better option for FEU development and protecting correlative rights at the boundaries of the FEU than the amendments to and alteration of the rules requested by XTO.

The Division posted XTO's 2026 POD on its public website a substantial amount of time prior to September 9, 2016. When V-F counsel downloaded the development plan from the public website, sometime on or before September 6, 2026, V-F counsel was unaware that the public posting resulted was done "unknowingly" and "mistakenly" and viewed the development plan as a relevant public document available for inclusion in its exhibits in Case No. 26248. On this basis and belief, V-F included the document as Exhibit 10 in its original Hearing Packet.

XTO's counsel, who apparently discovered that the Division had posted and disclosed to the public XTO's 2026 POD when they received V-F's timely filed Hearing Packet, emailed on September 12, 2026, both V-F's counsel and counsel for Pride Energy Company ("Pride") a stern "cease and desist" letter threatening punitive action against both parties of record – against V-F for downloading XTO's 2026 development plan from the OCD website and using it as an exhibit and against Pride who apparently, based on the letter, must have also accessed XTO's development plan from the OCD website. A copy of XTO's letter is attached hereto as Exhibit B. XTO's cease and desist threat was the first contact and communication about this matter that V-F's counsel received from XTO; needless to say, it came as a sharp surprise; a phone call explaining the situation and circumstances as a professional courtesy prior to assuming such an aggressive posture would have been much appreciated.

It is concerning that XTO's counsel would take such an aggressive posture toward the parties of record in an effort to redact and withhold from the adjudication the very document that XTO relies on for approval of its extraordinary (and in V-F's view, unauthorized) application. Considering: the facts and circumstances, and applicable law, relevant to reviewing the posting and public disclosure of the 2026 POD, as described herein, show that there is likely a legal basis for V-F to reference and use the 2026 POD in the adjudication at this point in the proceedings. XTO's "cease and desist" letter interferes with the adjudication by threatening parties of record with punitive action for submitting what was presumably a public document before the Division has had an opportunity to review the facts, circumstances, and law related to this situation, to XTO's Motion, and to V-F's Response, and to make a ruling on the issues. At this stage of the proceedings, the parties should respectfully make their case to the Division and wait for a ruling.

On September 12, 2026, XTO filed with the OCD its Motion regarding V-F's Exhibit 10 and emailed a copy to V-F and Pride. XTO's Motion clearly states that "the BLM 2026 POD Letter was unknowingly and mistakenly uploaded to [OCD's] public-access portal in Case No. 365." Emphasis and brackets added. This statement by XTO appears to indicate and acknowledge that the Division did not know that XTO's 2026 POD should not have been uploaded to the portal at the time XTO submitted it, and such acknowledgement suggests and would reasonably indicate that XTO failed to make clear to the Division that XTO's 2026 POD was not to be posted in the case file. Upon receiving a new development plan for the Big Eddy FEU, which is required to be updated and submitted periodically by regulation, it would have been reasonable, without clear instructions to the contrary, for the Division to assume that XTO's 2026 POD should have been posted in the public portal for Case No. 365; and therefore, doing so was proper. The fact that XTO acknowledges the plan was "unknowingly" and therefore "mistakenly" filed provides prima facie evidence that XTO likely failed to inform, or clearly inform, the OCD that its 2026 POD must not be posted at the time it was filed, which raises the question of whether XTO took reasonable steps and measures to protect the confidentiality of the 2026 POD. The statements in XTO's Motion indicate that likely XTO did not.

Finally, on September 14, 2026, V-F submitted this Response to XTO's Motion.

III. Legal Standard:

Pursuant to 19.15.4.19 NMAC, the Division examiner has authority to receive exhibits, rule on objections, and take measures necessary and proper for the efficient and orderly conduct of the hearing.

New Mexico's trade-secret privilege permits the owner of a trade secret to refuse disclosure or prevent others from disclosing it, unless sustaining the privilege would tend to conceal fraud or otherwise work an injustice. If disclosure is ordered, appropriate protective measures must safeguard the owner's interests and any interests that justice requires. 11-508 NMRA.

The party asserting the privilege bears the initial burden of establishing that the information qualifies as a trade secret. If that burden is met, the party seeking disclosure must make a particularized showing that the information is relevant and necessary to prove or defend against a material element of the case. The burden then returns to the party asserting the privilege to demonstrate why a protective order would not adequately protect the information. Pincheira v. Allstate Ins. Co., 2007-NMCA-094, ¶ 39, 142 N.M. 283, 164 P.3d 982.

When the parties dispute whether information constitutes a trade secret, the issue ordinarily should be resolved after an adversarial presentation of evidence. A good-faith assertion of trade-secret status may justify a closed evidentiary hearing concerning that status. Pincheira v. Allstate Ins. Co., 2008-NMSC-049, ¶¶ 49-41, 142 N.M. 601, 190 P.3d 322.

IV. Argument:

A. XTO's 2026 Development Plan Does Not Qualify as a Trade Secret Merely Because XTO Characterizes It as Confidential.

Under New Mexico law, information qualifies as a trade secret only if it both derives actual or potential independent economic value from not being generally known or readily ascertainable by proper means and is subject to efforts reasonable under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy. Rapid Temps, Inc. v. Lamon, 2008-NMCA-122, ¶ 20, 144 N.M. 804, 809; see also NMSA 1978, § 57-3A-2.

Under the facts and circumstances of the public posting, XTO's 2026 POD would not qualify as the subject of "reasonable efforts under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy." XTO acknowledges that when the Division posted the plan on its website, it did so "unknowingly" which likely indicates that XTO did not make reasonable efforts under the circumstances to maintain its secrecy by clearly and unambiguously informing the Division upfront at the time the 2026 POD was filed that the plan was not to be posted in order to maintain its secrecy. XTO's Motion does not state that it informed the OCD at the time of filing that the 2026 POD was not to be publicly posted, and this omission is highly revealing. If such instructions had been reasonably communicated, the Division then would not have been able to post the plan on its public website “unknowingly.” In other words, if the Division had been properly informed, then any mistake the Division made while filing would have been a made “knowingly.” XTO makes it clear in its Motion that the OCD “unknowingly” posted the POD.

Thus, the present circumstances raise substantial legal questions concerning the statutory requirements that must be met to protect a document as a trade secret. The development plan was posted on the Division’s public website and was accessible for a substantial amount of time to V-F, Pride, and other parties searching for information on the Big Eddy FEU during the period of its disclosure and after XTO had submitted its novel application. Its appearance on that website bears directly on whether the information was generally known or readily ascertainable by proper means and whether reasonable efforts maintained its secrecy, which under the facts and circumstances acknowledged by XTO, there is indication that reasonable efforts were not made and XTO fails to show with particularity that reasonable efforts were made.

The public posting also raises a factual question concerning whether any claimed economic value continued to derive from secrecy while the document was available through a public governmental source. New Mexico recognizes that trade-secret protection concerns information that is not generally known and that derives value from that status. Lasen, Inc. v. Tadjikov, 2020-NMCA-006, ¶¶ 28-29, 456 P.3d 1090.

Information that is readily identifiable or accessible without special knowledge may fail to qualify as a trade secret or confidential information. Insure N.M. LLC v. McGonigle, 2000-NMCA-018, ¶¶ 16, 28, 128 N.M. 611, 995 P.2d 1053. Accordingly, XTO’s designation of the 2026 POD as confidential does not, standing alone, resolve whether the statutory requirements are satisfied. Available options for establishing spacing units and well configurations in the Delaware Basin are widely known among operators within the industry, especially since past development plans for the Big Eddy FEU have been publicly filed of record, and XTO has not shown that the options and details in the 2026 PODs would not be generally known and would not be readily ascertainable by proper means by other persons.

Furthermore, it is not possible for another operator to compete against XTO for operatorship of the Big Eddy FEU, which is the focus and subject of the 2026 POD, the operation of the Big Eddy FEU. By orders from both the Bureau of Land Management (“BLM”) and the Division, XTO is designated as the sole operator of the Big Eddy FEU and no other operator can compete with XTO for economic advantage in the operation of the FEU. Therefore, the 2026 POD fails the statutory criteria for qualifying as a trade secret. This failure combined with XTO choosing to make the contents of the 2026 POD the focus of an adjudication in a highly unconventional application that requests extraordinary relief tilts the scales of justice toward admitting the 2026 POD as a proper exhibit in the adjudication.

New Mexico authority recognizes that disputed trade-secret status ordinarily is best decided after an adversarial presentation rather than by assumption. Pincheira v. Allstate Ins. Co., 2008-NMSC-049, ¶¶ 34-35, 73, 142 N.M. 601, 190 P.3d 322. After the public disclosure of XTO’s 2026 POD, XTO has presented no specific or concrete evidence supporting a claim for trade-secret status, and the Division should not grant the 2026 POD confidential status without such a showing, especially since XTO is relying on the 2026 POD for approval of its application.

B. V-F Obtained the 2026 Development Plan from a Public Division Source Without Knowledge That Its Posting Was a Mistake.

New Mexico’s Uniform Trade Secrets Act distinguishes acquisition by improper means from acquisition under circumstances in which the recipient did not know or have reason to know of improper means. “Improper means” includes theft, bribery, misrepresentation, breach or inducement of a duty to maintain secrecy, and electronic or other espionage. See §57-3A-2(B).

None of those circumstances is present in the facts known to V-F or stated in XTO’s Motion. V-F found the document on the Division’s public website. V-F did not steal the document, misrepresent its identity or purpose, induce a breach of confidentiality, or engage in espionage. Nor did V-F receive the document subject to an agreement or instruction requiring confidentiality. Instead, V-F reasonably understood a document made public and available on the Division’s website to be a public document appropriate for inclusion as an exhibit in an adjudication on which the document has probative and relevant bearing. In short, XTO itself brought to the forefront the relevance and importance of the 2026 POD as critical evidence in a public adjudication by submitting its unusual and unconventional application that requests the OCD to grant extraordinary relief which should only be granted, if granted at all, after a thorough evaluation of relevant evidence under the scrutiny of examination.

Section 57-3A-2 also addresses disclosure or use after a person knows or has reason to know that information claimed as a trade secret was acquired by accident or mistake. That distinction is important in the present situation. V-F did not know of the mistaken posting when it obtained the document and included it in its Hearing Packet. Now that V-F has become aware of the mistake, it has acted prospectively and respectfully by providing the Division a convenient means to remove Exhibit 10 from its Hearing Packet and record should the Division determine under the law, and facts and circumstances of the case, that XTO’s 2026 POD should be removed from the record and deemed inadmissible as evidence in the contested hearing. However, V-F respectfully submits based on the reasons stated herein that the Division should evaluate the legal criteria which supports the 2026 POD remaining of record as an exhibit in order to uphold of due process and fundamental fairness of the adjudication.

The facts and circumstances under which XTO's 2026 POD was disclosed to the public, and the nature of the document itself do not require the Division to accept XTO's characterization that the document is a trade secret. They instead support a measured process that highlights V-F's innocent acquisition of the document and that requires the proper application of the law for handling the status and role of the document after notice of the public posting.

C. Exhibit 10 Is Relevant to V-F's Opposing Position Even Though V-F Proposes to Remove It from the Hearing Packet Pending the Division's Consideration and Direction.

V-F continues to consider Exhibit 10 relevant to the contested adjudication. XTO seeks to extinguish and alter established Division rules, and V-F has objected that XTO's application and extraordinary relief requested constitutes improper rulemaking and violates correlative rights. XTO's 2026 POD concerns the manner and locations in which XTO plans to use the extraordinary relief it has requested and informs whether the locations and manner of use are sufficient in number to justify extinguishing and altering established rules; therefore, the 2026 POD has direct bearing on V-F's response to the relief XTO requests.

V-F's inclusion of its Amended Hearing Packet that omits Exhibit 10 is provided in Exhibit A attached hereto the event that the OCD rules Exhibit 10 should be excluded from the record and is not a concession or acknowledgement that the document is irrelevant, privileged, or a trade secret. It is an effort to demonstrate that V-F is aware of the legal issues involved in the situation and circumstances and thus is a good-faith gesture to provide the Division with available options to resolve the Motion fairly and efficiently. As a result, V-F respectfully requests that when the Division issues its final ruling on XTO's motion, that it provide a record of the legal basis for its ruling.

D. The Division Can Protect Any Legitimate Confidentiality Interest Without Unnecessarily Impairing V-F's Ability to Defend Against XTO's Application.

New Mexico law contemplates reasonable measures to preserve the secrecy of an alleged trade secret, including protective orders, in camera proceedings, sealed records, and restrictions on disclosure. NMSA 1978, § 57-3A-6. The purpose of such measures is to preserve any legitimate trade-secret value while allowing the opposing party access to information needed to prepare and present its examinations. Pincheira v. Allstate Ins. Co., 2008-NMSC-049, ¶¶ 65, 142 N.M. 601, 190 P.3d 322. In fact, XTO should have followed proper procedure by submitting to the Division a motion requesting a protective order from the Division that specifies the manner in which the 2026 POD could have been properly protected and whether it warranted protection. This would have allowed the Division and the parties of record to participate in the procedure and the opportunity to respond accordingly. Instead, XTO counsel took it upon themselves to unilaterally decide to redact and withhold the 2026 POD from the parties of record without notifying them, thereby usurping their right to respond and undermining procedural due process.

Nonetheless, at this point, if the Division should determine sua-sponte that further consideration of the 2026 POD is necessary, it may use measures suited to the circumstances, including confidential or in camera review and discussion and restrictions on further dissemination. Such an approach would permit the Division to evaluate XTO's assertions, V-F's claim of relevance, and the circumstances of the public posting without presuming the ultimate trade-secret question.

Due process in an administrative adjudication requires notice and an opportunity to be heard and examine the evidence, as well as the appearance of fairness. Those safeguards are particularly important in administrative proceedings because customary judicial safeguards may be relaxed in the interest of efficiency. Santa Fe Exploration Co. v. Oil Conservation Comm'n, 1992-NMSC-044, ¶14, 114 N.M. 103, 835 P.2d 819. The opportunity to be heard in a meaningful manner generally includes the opportunity to review and present evidence. State ex rel. Children, Youth & Families Dep't v. Maria C., 2004-NMCA-083, 136 N.M. 53, 94 P.3d 796.

V-F therefore respectfully asks the Division to employ the best and most judicious procedure and options available for the proper adjudication of XTO's application, while taking into account the contested nature of the September 15, 2026, hearing, V-F's need for a fair opportunity to develop its position in opposition to XTO's application and evidence, and any confidentiality interest the OCD might find.

V. Conclusion:

In response to XTO's Motion, V-F respectfully requests that the Division:

- A. First and foremost, based on the legal analysis provided in V-F's Prehearing Statement, recognize that XTO's application seeks to have the Division engage in improper rulemaking that fails to meet the threshold criteria that would authorize the Division to issue the relief requested, and on this basis, deny and/or dismiss XTO's application so that XTO can refile it with the Oil Conservation Commission to request a proper hearing to amend and change the existing rules established for spacing units at the boundaries of an FEU and nonstandard well locations within an FEU. Such dismissal is necessary and proper under the statutes and rules of the Oil & Gas Act, and would allow XTO to move to the proper forum for requesting new and/or amended rules, which would also address and satisfy the confidentiality concerns in XTO's Motion by avoiding any risk of further disclosure;
- B. In the alternative, deny the Motion and let V-F retain of record its original Hearing Packet because, as shown herein, XTO has not established that the 2026 POD contains trade secrets or should receive the protection of trade secrets, because once posted to the public, whether intentionally or inadvertently, in a manner that voids statutory protection, trade secret protection no longer applies; or

- C. If the Division rules that Exhibit 10 remains necessary for the contested hearing, but the Division decides it should not be available of record, establish a fair and appropriately protective procedure for resolving its status and permissible use, while preserving V-F's objections to XTO's application and V-F's position that the development plan is relevant to V-F's examination; and
- D. Grant such procedural relief as the Division determines will most judiciously preserve due process, fundamental fairness, and the orderly conduct of the September 15, 2026, contested hearing.

Batch Application for approval of multiple nonstandard units – streamlined approach

- FEU operator identifies multiple areas and locations along the FEU boundary for approval of nonstandard units based on long-term plans.
- FEU operator submits a single application that includes multiple nonstandard units to be approved, pursuant to existing rules.
- Single application would provide notice and relevant data and evidence for evaluating and approving each nonstandard unit, pursuant to existing rules.
- Nonstandard units approved would be primed and ready for development; the submission of multiple units in a single application streamlines the process.
- Any nonstandard units that receive objections would be handled under existing rules. Under this option, anticipate the majority of units would be approved without objection, resulting in a streamlined process.

14 Super.

15 Yeah, and people.

16 I have another one that I'm going to answer.

24
25 PH Pecos Hall 10:57

26 All right, good morning. It is 830 A.m. on the 20th of August. This is the regularly
27 scheduled status conference docket. Although it looks like we might have a few other
28 types of cases on the docket this morning. So I will begin with case numbers
29 259121314 and 15. These are
30 Matador Production Company. Entry of appearance, please. Good morning, Mr.
31 Hearing, Examiner Paula Vance with the Santa Fe office of Holland and Hart on 32 behalf of the applicant in these cases. And it's actually, we filed, it's Greyhound
33 Resources LLC with Matador Production Company.
34 as the designated operator in the applications. Thank you.
35 Good morning, Mr. Examiner. Dina Bennett on behalf of Avant Operating Two, and 36 also on behalf of Stanilin Permian, Stanilin Stevens, D&H Davis Oil, AG Hawk

696 they can file it under the existing case number as a motion and then contact me with 697 the new language that needs to be noticed and I will manually add it to the next 698 hearing by affidavit docket.
699 Notice.
700 I see. If that makes sense. It does make sense. So you still have to provide new notice,
701 as does the applicant.
702 Interesting, but you're able to keep the same case number. Well, Miss Shaheen, that 703 seems like the way to go here. I mean, it helps your client and it helps you by 704 keeping the same case number and it keeps the confusion factor down. I realize that 705 it takes money away from the division, but 706 I mean, I think I think in this case that makes sense. It is. I will confer with Ms. Chance
707 about, because I think they've already been accepted for filing. So I'll confer with her 708 about how to fix it. Okay. Great. Thank you for that. Yes, of course. Okay. Okay. Ms.
709 Shaheen, anything further on this, because we're going to issue a pre-hearing order
710 for October 27th.
711 if we don't hear from you by the end of the day telling us that you just can't do that 712 for some reason.
713 Okay. Okay. All right. And Miss Vance, same thing.
714 On what? I'm not in this case. Miss Bennett, I'm sorry. You've been talking in this 715 case, so I thought you were involved. Miss Bennett, same thing. We'll issue a pre-
716 hearing order then by the end of the day. Thanks. All right, you're welcome. Let's 717 move on to case number 22. This is XTO Energy.
718 26248.

720 JP James Parrot 54:49

721 Good morning, Mr. Examiner. This is James Barrett with Beatty and Wozniak
722 representing the applicant XTO.

723

724 PH Pecos Hall 54:55

725 Thank you, Mr. Perrett.

726 Sharon Shaheen on behalf of Pride Energy. Thank you. Oh, Miss Shaheen, your. And 727 yes, we've objected to this going forward by affidavit. Right, you've objected and you 728 intend to file competing applications? This is a different type of application.

729 It's not a compulsory pooling application, so there's no competing proposals. Okay.

730 All right. Thank you.

731 Good morning, Mr. Hearing Examiner. Darren Savage with Avity and Shield
732 appearing on behalf of Devon Energy Production Company LP and appearing on 733 behalf of VF Petroleum Incorporated. Devon is only monitoring and preserving rights.
734 However, VF Petroleum has objected to this application.

735 All right, perfect. Thank you.

736 All right, Mr. Parrott, how do you want to proceed?

737

738 JP James Parrot 55:52

739 Thank you, Mr. Examiner. I believe that the Pride Energy objection is on the precipice
740 of resolution. Perhaps Ms. Sheen can add some color to that. We sent an update 741 yesterday afternoon or yesterday during the day.

742

743 PH Pecos Hall 56:01

744 Okay.

745 The.

746

747 JP James Parrot 56:10

748 heard a response yet, but it's a pretty new bit of information. As far as VF's objection,
749 XTO believes that there's really no merit to the objection as the application does not 750 have any impact on VF's interest. I can provide you with a screen share of the 751 application and explain a little bit more why if

752

753 PH Pecos Hall 56:15

754 Play.

755

756 JP James Parrot 56:32

757 That's your pleasure. But in any case, we'd ask that the application be set for hearing
758 at the earliest possible opportunity. Don't believe that there's really anything that's 759 needed for a long run up or negotiations to resolution. Thank you.

760

761 PH Pecos Hall 56:50

762 OK, Mr.

763 All right, Mister Savage, do you know what the nature of the VF Petroleum objection
764 is? Yes, I can explain that. Go ahead, please.

765 So...

766 This application basically is revoking the rights of owners. Oh.
767 to object to non-standard spacing units. Wait, this is an application to revoke the 768 objection? Yeah, it's basically it's a very it's a very unusual application. So it deals with 769 a large federal unit, the big Eddy unit.
770 And so when an operator gets the privilege of having been granted a federal unit,
771 they get lots of benefits. They get lots of flexibility in there. But then there's an area
772 around, and because the unit is developed by ownership, there's a lot of irregular 773 shapes around the border.
774 Okay, so where those areas, the border areas interface between the members of the 775 federal unit and the owners on the outside of the unit. And that's really where the 776 issue of correlative rights come into play because those adjoining owners, their 777 adjoining tracks,
778 they're going to be part of these irregular shaped of units. So under the currently 779 under the rules, and the rules were adjudicated, I believe, in 2018. Are these the 780 federal rules or are these? These are the OCD rules. These are Title 19, what is Title
781 19, Chapter 15, Part 16. So
782 You know, this is in 2008, they applied the rules to the horizontal wells and the 783 statutes, and they didn't really amend the statutes, but they adapted the, you know, 784 morphed the rules. So, those were done under proper rulemaking procedures. So,
785 what this
786 What to me, and I talked to Jacob, Mr. Everhart, about this. So what the case does is 787 it says, okay, we're going to have, at the border, we have an irregular section, but we 788 want to deem it to be standard. And we want, we want 789 the irregular shape, the non-rectangular shape, which would otherwise be non-
790 standard, we want it to be only within the federal unit, the federal exploratory unit,
791 and not include any tracks that would make it standard outside any adjoining tracks.
792 So basically, and then we want to do this across the board as a blanket application.
793 without looking at where the wells would be and proposing to the OCD an actual 794 spacing plan. And how does that affect your client, VF Petroleum? So our client is 795 entitled is entitled to notice because we have an offset ownership of a tract. I see. So 796 we're entitled to notice.
797 and we're making an appearance and we made an objection. Our main concern 798 about this is the revocation across the board of the right to object and to protect 799 corroded rights, because what we think this case may very likely do is set a precedent
800 that once this is granted, then it would be a precedent

801 there would be no reason for another operator of a federal unit to ask the same
802 thing. And basically, it's kind of a backdoor way to get around the established rules.
803 And we're concerned about that. And we would like opportunity, if the OCD and 804 OCD may agree that, you know, this is a direction they want to go. And if they do, 805 They should hear all the concerns and arguments and cross-examination and all that.
806 But your client is in negotiations to what? Make that go away? No, our client, our 807 client, I mean, if, if, if.

808 There, we believe there's other options besides approaching it this way and doing
809 away with the rules. So, you might convince Mister Parrott to withdraw the objection,
810 to withdraw the application, withdraw the application, and then approach it from a 811 different a different way, and I have some ideas that I'd be glad to discuss. All right,
812 perfect. That's great. Thank you. Thank you. I appreciate that, Mister Savage. Mister
813 Parrott, do you want to add anything to that?

814

815 JP James Parrot 1:01:17

816 Yes, please. I appreciate the opportunity to respond. Just to clarify exactly what the 817 application says, would it be okay if I do a screen share of the application? Okay.

819 PH Pecos Hall 1:01:18

820 Ha.

821 Yes, go ahead.

822 Go ahead, it sounds novel that everyone would want to see it.

823

824 JP James Parrot 1:01:31

825 Thank you.

826 OK, this is the application.

827

828 PH Pecos Hall 1:01:34

829 And Freya, while he's sharing, Freya, while he's sharing this with us, can you figure 830 out why Mr. Larson has his hand up?

831 I think that was a previous hand raise. I don't know if it's still, he just put it down.

832 Thank you, Freya. Okay, go ahead, Mr. Parrott. I'm sorry to interrupt you.

833

834 JP James Parrot 1:01:51

835 Okay, yeah, thank you very much. So this is the application itself. This was filed with 836 the division on June 8th. It's been public record for over two months now. And the 837 application is, as you can see, the highlighted paragraph is really kind of the key 838 request in the application.

839 And it requests that standard horizontal spacing units within the FEU be allowed to 840 align with the boundaries of the FEU, of the Federal Exploratory Unit. And just to 841 show you exactly why we're asking for that, I'm going to click over to exhibit A1.

842

843 PH Pecos Hall 1:02:13

844 Sing.

845 Mhm.

846

847 JP James Parrot 1:02:30

848 in the application. So as you can see, it's a very irregular boundary, as is fairly typical 849 with FEUs. There are many areas of the FEU where the boundaries align with quarter-
850 quarter sections and sometimes quarter sections.

851

852 PH Pecos Hall 1:02:30

853 Mm-hmm.

854 Mhm.

855

856 JP James Parrot 1:02:51

857 This makes it very difficult to establish spacing units that align with the boundaries of 858 the unit. The alternatives would be to sort of 1 by 1 establish non-standard units, 859 which, as everybody knows, tend to elicit objections and slow down development.

860

861 PH Pecos Hall 1:02:51

862 Bing.

863

864 JP James Parrot 1:03:13

865 or to do straddle units that overlap the boundaries of the unit. And for many, many 866 reasons, those are very problematic. So XTO is asked to be able to establish standard 867 spacing units that align with the boundaries of the

868

869 PH Pecos Hall 1:03:18

870 We can.

871

872 JP James Parrot 1:03:32

873 the federal exploratory unit. There's no attempt to thwart any kind of notice or 874 opportunity. We have noticed every single owner, including overriding royalty
875 interest owners adjacent to the unit and within the unit. It was a huge notice list to 876 ensure that everybody's due process rights are protected.
877 There's no attempt to revoke anybody's rights. That's a complete mischaracterization
878 of the application. And everybody now has an opportunity to participate and raise 879 any objections.

881 PH Pecos Hall 1:04:08

882 Okay, Mr. Perry. I understand, Mr. Perry. Thank you. This has been helpful. To you, to 883 the, well, hold on one second. To the best of your knowledge, has the division ever 884 granted an application such as this?

885

886 JP James Parrot 1:04:11

887 Sir, may I add, Mister Examiner? Sure.

888 No, I believe this is a novel approach to deal with federal exploratory units in the 889 state.

891 PH Pecos Hall 1:04:29

892 Okay, all right. Okay, I have all the information I think I need. I'm not going to be the 893 technical examiner, thankfully, for this case. And so when do you want to set it for?

894

895 JP James Parrot 1:04:37

896 Certainly.

897 As early as possible. September would be ideal. Thank you.

898

899 PH Pecos Hall 1:04:45

900 All right, September 15th.

901

902 JP James Parrot 1:04:48

903 That would be fantastic.

904

905 PH Pecos Hall 1:04:50

906 All right, so Mr. Savage, we're going to set this case for a contested hearing on 907 September 15th. Do you anticipate, if you don't negotiate your way out of this, your 908 objection, do you anticipate bringing witnesses?
909 Yeah, I think I think one witness, perhaps the land man. Yeah, I think provides some 910 commentary. Fine, fine. Okay. May I? May who? On behalf of Pride. Miss Shaheen, are 911 you entered on this case? Yes, I under my appearance on behalf of Pride Energy, and 912 so I would like to say
913 We have been conferring, Pride has been conferring with XCO. However, we are not 914 close to an agreement. We, in short, let me look at my notes here. Pride has an offset 915 interest in Section 35, Township 22 South, Range 29 East.
916 And if XTRO were to decide to use this an order approving this application to create 917 a non to deem a non-standard unit a standard unit,
918 Pride needs to be included in any development of Section 35, and in part, that's 919 because there are limited drilling islands there. We need something in writing from 920 XTO that commits to including Pride in any development in Section 35, and we have 921 not been able to come to that agreement.
922 As for September 15th, I'm going to need to check with my client because that is 923 earlier than we anticipated. I was looking at the October 20th and October 27th
924 dates. Well, talk to your client. Let us know. But if we don't hear from you, we'll issue 925 a pre-hearing order for September 15th. And we can always continue it if we start on 926 that day and your client
927 needs to go another day, we can continue it to another day, but at least we'll get the 928 process moving. Mr. Parrott, anything further?

929

930 JP James Parrot 1:06:53

931 No, thank you, Mr. Examiner.

932

933 PH Pecos Hall 1:06:57

934 Not for me. Thank you, Mr. Savage. Thank you. Okay, excellent. We're off the record.

935 All right, let's go on to Longfellow Energy number 23 on our docket. This is 26252.

936

937 MS Miguel Suazo 1:07:08938 Good morning, Mr. Examiner, Miguel Suaza with Bating Wozniak, appearing today on 939 behalf of the applicant, Longfellow Energy.

Re: Demand to Cease and Desist Use of XTO Energy Inc.'s Confidential 2026 Plan of Development in Case No. 26248

Dear Mr. Savage and Ms. Shaheen:

I write on behalf of XTO Energy Inc. (“XTO”) regarding V-F Petroleum Inc.’s (“V-F”) improper use of XTO’s confidential and proprietary 2026 Plan of Development for the Big Eddy Unit (the “Plan”) in New Mexico Oil Conservation Division (“NMOCD”) Case No. 26248, and subsequent transmittal to Pride Energy Company (“Pride”) through counsel. The Plan contains trade secrets, confidential, and proprietary information and intellectual property. XTO demands that V-F and Pride immediately cease any further use or disclosure of the Plan, including any intended use of the Plan and the proprietary and confidential information contained therein at the upcoming September 15, 2026 hearing.

XTO maintains that the information contained in the Plan constitutes trade secrets and was not intended for public disclosure or use. Although the Plan was included in the publicly accessible case file, its availability was not authorized for disclosure or use by V-F or any other party. All references and documents pertaining to the Plan have since been removed from the publicly accessible case file by the New Mexico Oil Conservation Division. XTO does not consent to V-F and Pride's possession or use of the Plan or the confidential and proprietary information contained therein. V-F's continued use is a violation of Rule 11-512 of New Mexico's Rules of Evidence.

Nevertheless, V-F obtained the Plan and subsequently filed it as "Exhibit 10: Big Eddy Unit 2026 Plan of Development Letter" with its exhibits in Case No. 26248, and provided service to Pride's counsel via email on September 8, 2026. V-F also improperly relied on confidential information contained in the Plan in its Prehearing Statement.

Continued use, possession, and publication of the Plan will cause significant and irreparable harm to XTO. Such actions by V-F and Pride constitute conversion of proprietary and intellectual property and improperly interfere with XTO's rights in its trade secrets and confidential information. V-F has obtained the Plan improperly, without prior authorization from XTO or the NMOCD, and when the document was clearly marked CONFIDENTIAL.

Accordingly, XTO demands that V-F—and Pride where indicated—immediately:

1. Withdraw Exhibit 10 from V-F's exhibits in Case No. 26248;
2. Refrain from introducing, referencing, or otherwise using confidential information contained in the Plan at the September 15, 2026 hearing or in any other proceeding in Case No. 26248;
3. Remove the Plan and any copy of it from V-F's and Pride's internal files and destroy all physical or electronic copies of the Plan in the possession, control, or custody of V-F and Pride and their agents;
4. Confirm in writing that V-F and Pride have complied with these demands and will not use the Plan or the confidential information within it in the future.

If V-F and Pride fail to take the actions above prior to the September 15, 2026 hearing, XTO will pursue all available legal remedies necessary to protect its confidential and propriety information. Nothing in this letter shall be construed as a waiver of XTO's rights or remedies under the law or in equity. All such rights are expressly reserved. Please direct any questions regarding this letter or the demand contained herein to the undersigned counsel.

Sincerely,

BEATTY & WOZNIAK, P.C.
