Governor Michelle Lujan Grisham has committed to nation-leading methane rule to address New Mexico's 1.1-million-ton methane problem
EMNRD's rule can be improved by:

Banning routine venting and flaring and only allow such activities when necessary for health and safety, and require flaring over venting except when necessary for health and safety.

Requiring oil and gas companies to capture 98% of methane emissions by 2026.

Strengthening state reporting and public notice requirements to improve transparency and ensure accountability of oil and gas operations.
