Subject: Mack's brine well
Importance: High

Hi - I just got a call from attorney Robert Gorence of Gorence & Oliveros, P.C. (505) 244-0214, gorence@swcp.com. He will be representing Mack on the brine well case. (He represented them in the GJ West Coop case, too.)

He would like some extra time to respond to the letter, and would like to set up a compliance conference. They can be available this Friday afternoon after about 2 pm, or Monday morning, or March 9 in the afternoon.

If you want them to take any sort of emergency action (for example, shut in the well) you need to let them know. Otherwise he is going to assume that they can continue to operate until this gets resolved.

I was hampered in discussing this with him because there is nothing on the R drive to tell me about this case. No "terms and conditions" form, no copy of the letter, no nothing. I assume I am not handling the case because I have nothing on it.

Would someone please contact him ASAP. He would prefer to hear from counsel; he's uncomfortable dealing with non-counsel directly.

Bob - Thank you for your call yesterday in response to Daniel Sanchez' letter of February 9, 2007. I will be representing the OCD in this matter.

Of the dates you mentioned for a meeting, the date that would best suit us is March 9. It would be helpful for both Daniel Sanchez and Wayne Price to attend the meeting, and Wayne is currently out of the office.

Please note that Mr. Sanchez' letter instructed Mack to cease and desist all operations at the site until Mack has obtained an approved discharge permit.

Thank you. Gail MacQuesten, OCD Attorney
