OCD approval does not relieve the operator of liability should their operations fail to adequately investigate and remediate contamination that may pose a threat to groundwater, surface water, human health or the environment. In addition, OCD approval does not relieve the operator of responsibility for compliance with any other federal, state, or local laws and/or regulations.

Amy,

I do have the original submittal, located where it is supposed to be for having been entered, but I don't see where it was entered. Will get it processed ASAP and get you an RP number.
