Hi David,

The above noted operator has submitted regulatory (completion) paperwork on this well.

They are calling this a Wildcat; Strawn completion, however I disagree and believe that the perfed intervals are the Lower Pennsylvanian, Strawn and Atoka formations.

I'll fax over the information that they have submitted along with my log tops.

I correlated an offset log on a well to the east of this one.

I'll include the log headers for your review that I used to correlate with, my log tops and the information that they have submitted.

As you are aware, the log tops we use come from old cross sections that a number of geologist came up with back in the 70's and they are on old paper cross sections.

I need to correspond with you 1st before I go into the process of possible compliance issue with so I know where I stand.

Thanks,
Bryan Arrant
