We plan to add a separator and a produced water tank to this location.
We will then put a compressor on this location in order to meet the pressure in the gathering system. We will then attempt to produce this well into the El Paso gathering system.
If this is not successful, we will explore the possibility of recompleting this well in the fruitland coal formation.
Depending on the results of this test, we will either manifold the Maxey No. 1 to the Maxey 1-J compressor, re-work the well or plug and abandon it.
