Ms. Yu,

I apologize for the confusion, I see the stockpile you are discussing. That is not impacted soil from this release. It is most likely caliche that was brought in for a project near-by and not needed so they stockpiled it on the location to be used for road repair or for later use at another location rather than taking it back to where they obtained it from. Let me know if you have any other questions.

Thank You,

Good morning Ms. Haskell:

Thank you for your prompt response. The question was in regards to the stockpiled soil identified on Figure 3 in the report for 1RP-4727. Was this soil from the immediate corrective action when the release was discovered?

Thanks,
Olivia

Ms. Yu,

There are no excavated soils at this location at the moment to be on a plastic liner. When excavation activities are conducted the impacted soil will be placed on a liner and disposed of.

* External email. Use caution. ****

Ms. Gonzales:

Questions: Is the stockpiled soil impacted and on plastic liner for later disposal?

NMOCD approves of the preliminary delineation completed for 1RP-4727 and agrees that completion of vertical delineation of the area represented by AH-4 can be conducted, when accessible, after removal of infrastructure. For the proposed remediation, confirmation bottom and sidewall samples are required for the entire impacted area within the berms. Please provide dated photo documentation of the remediation process.

Like approval from NMSLO required.

Thanks,
Olivia
