A wide-angle photograph of an industrial site under a clear blue sky. The foreground is a vast, flat, reddish-brown dirt area. In the middle ground, there are several large, cylindrical metal storage tanks. On the left, two smaller tanks stand side-by-side. In the center, a small white vehicle is parked. To the right, a larger cluster of four or five tanks is connected by a network of pipes and structural steel. The background is a flat, open landscape with some distant vegetation.
