Subject: Undesirable Event NU12012TG, Turner B 84 Archeological Clearance
Attachments: Turner B 84-101011 spill map-102011.jpg

Gentlemen,

This notification is in regard to the following location and undesirable event:

Event Number: NU12012TG

Event Date: (UNKNOWN) Spill reported by 3rd party Event Name: Turner B 84

Legals: T17S/R31E, sec. 29, NWNE

The above spill has been cleared for archeological concerns. The operator can proceed with delineation and cleanup.

There has been some confusion with this spill location and a previous Turner B 84 spill that is west of this spill site.

The first spill occurred on 10/02/11; was reported to the BLM by Linn Operating; is across from the Turner B 56; requires an archeological monitor to be present during all work activities; and carries the tracking number of NU12001TG.

This second Turner B 84 spill has an unknown spill date; was reported by a third party to the BLM; is across from the Turner B 54; does not require an archeological monitor; and carries the tracking number of NU12012TG. Upon inspection of the second Turner B 84 spill site, the spill looked like it was somewhat older than several days to a week. So it may have occurred before 10/02/11. A spill report is required.

I have attached a copy of the spill map to help alleviate future confusion between the two spill sites; however, even the spill maps of the two sites are virtually identical.
