Gentlemen

With regard to our APD to drill the captioned well located 1630' FSL & 1220' FEL (Unit I) of Section 19, T5S-R34E, Roosevelt County, New Mexico, you have advised that we must apply for a non-standard location and a letter explaining our reason for a non-standard location. The location for this well is governed and determined by our seismic data which indicates this location to be the most prospective for a successful well.

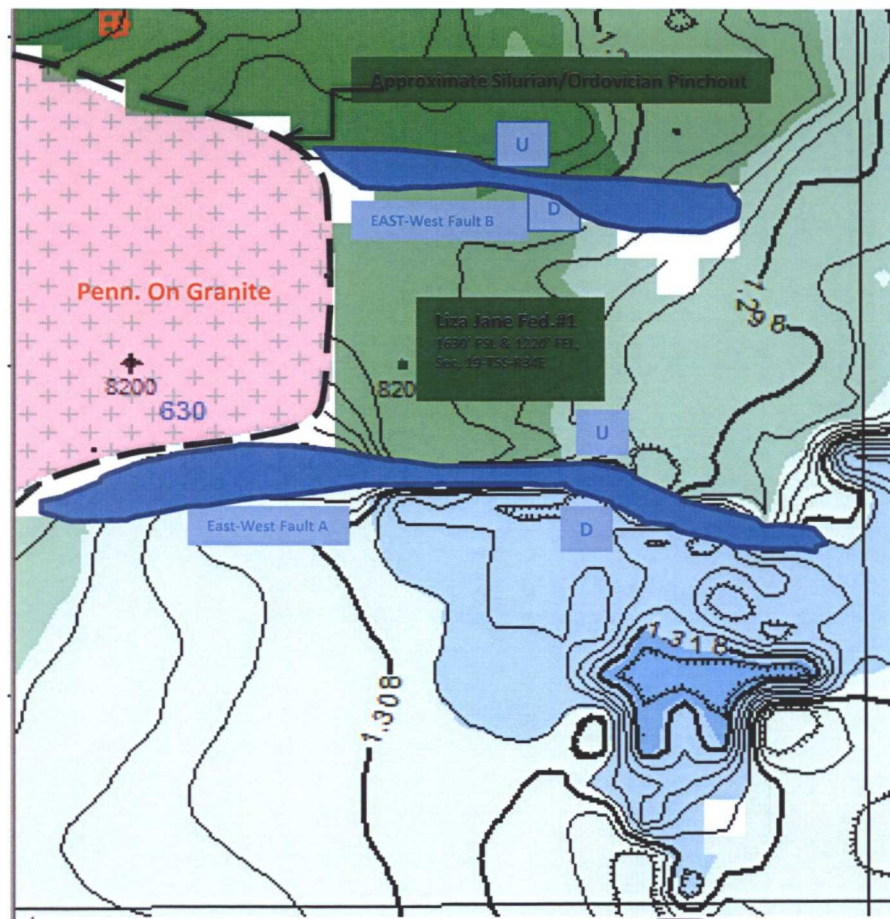

Also the well is located on federal minerals and federal lease NMNM-118119 which covers all of the SE/4 Section 19-T5S-R34E. With the well being located in Unit I (NE/4SE/4), the offsetting encroached Units L and P to the south, Units L and J to the west and Units L and O to the southwest have common federal mineral ownership.

If you need anything further in this regard, please contact me at 575-623-2999 X315.

Respectfully,

Time map on a Silurian/Ordovician, (S/O) Horizon picked from Armstrong Energy Corp. (AEC) 3D Seismic Survey

SE/4, Sec.19-T5S-R34E

The Liza Jane Fed. #1 location was established using data from a 3D seismic survey establishing the Silurian/Ordovician, (S/O) formation reservoir as it's primary objective. The AMOCO Fed. #1 reached it's total depth in granite, having no S/O reservoir formation make it a critical well to tie into the seismic survey. AEC believes the S/O pinch out can clearly be seen on the seismic. The pink area on the map is an area with no S/O formation, having Pennsylvanian formation on Granite. The Liza Jane Fed. #1 should have good S/O reservoir formation before drilling into granite and with no established Oil/Water contact for the Liza Jane Fed #1's paleo structure it's important to be as high as possible on the S/O formation as possible. In conclusion AEC believes the Liza Jane Fed. #1 location will achieve having good S/O reservoir formation and be structurally high enough above a Oil / Water contact.

How is this for a synopsis?

The Applicant's location is based on 3-D seismic, which shows the proposed well should have reservoir rock above the oil-water contact.
