1. The first of these is the fact that the Commission has not yet received any information from the Government of the United States regarding the activities of the Committee for the Liberation of the People of the South (CLPS) in the United States. The Commission is therefore unable to determine whether the CLPS is a legitimate organization or a subversive one.

1. The first of these is the fact that the United States has a large and growing population of people of Mexican descent, many of whom are citizens of the United States. This population is concentrated in the southwestern United States, particularly in California, where it is estimated that there are over 10 million people of Mexican descent. This population is the result of immigration from Mexico, which began in large numbers in the early 20th century and continued to grow steadily through the mid-20th century. The United States has a long history of immigration, and the Mexican population is one of the largest and most diverse groups in the country.
