Attention: Mr. Elvis A. Utz.

Dear Mr. Utz:

In reply to your letter of August 6th, you stated in the second paragraph "This will advise you we have not received a C-101" et cetera. However, I have been informed that this Notice of Intention to Drill had been filed and the remainder of your paragraph could indicate this also. I am wondering if the word "not" in the first sentence of that paragraph might be a typographical error. Would you please confirm my understanding as soon as possible?

You also state in that same paragraph "The Notice of Intention to Drill as well as a surveyors plat will be ready . . ." Do you mean they will be ready for a meeting of the Commission or what?

Regarding the bond, I had understood that the Commission was requiring a $25,000.00 completion bond, but your letter refers to a $5,000 one-well bond. Is this a change in your requirement or was there ever a $25,000.00 bond requirement by the Commission?

I appreciate your assisting us all with this information. We seem to be having considerable trouble in actually getting this project under way and your factual information helps us considerably.

Yours very truly,

Joseph R. Milmo
