

Injection is to be through the two authorized water injection wells, each of which shall be equipped with tubing set in a packer immediately above the casing shoe. The casing-tubing annulus shall be loaded with an inhibited fluid and equipped with a pressure gauge to facilitate detection of leakage in the casing, tubing, or packer.