Gentlemen:

In reference to your letter dated March 29, 1961, the Oil Commission simply requires the following: Form C-126 (four copies) which is a permit for transporting load oil which has been recovered from fracturing purposes, if such treatment has been necessary on the well, and Form C-104 (four copies) and Form C-110 (five copies) if the well is productive upon completion.

Other than these three forms, nothing more is necessary. The USGS sends us copies of all forms submitted to them, and it is not necessary for your office to do so.

Very truly yours,

OIL CONSERVATION COMMISSION

Dear Mr. Armstrong:

I notice that Rule 1108 requires the filing of five copies of Form C-105 together with one copy of electric log and that Rule 1128 provides that U.S.G.S. Form 9-330 is acceptable in lieu of Form C-105.

Does quintuplet as mentioned in Rule 1108 mean that five copies are required for the Commission in addition to the two copies of Form 9-330 for the U.S.G.S., or does it mean that we should send five copies of Form 9-330 to the U.S.G.S., who presumably will retain two and forward the other three to the Commission?

In any case, we are wrong on Jackson B-22, Unit K, Section 24-17-30, in that we furnished the U.S.G.S. only four copies of Form 9-330, so that the fifth copy is enclosed. If you desire two more copies, please so advise.

In the case of Jackson 22-B we sent two copies of the electric log to the U. S. G. S. at Artesia. If they have not yet delivered one copy to you, we will write and ask them to do so, and hereafter we will mail your copy of the electric log direct to you.

Yours truly,

NASH, WINDFOHR AND BROWN
