SUBMITTAL TO THE COMMISSION

The Commission on Conservation is a permanent body established by the New Mexico Legislature in 1973. Its purpose is to advise the Governor and the Legislature on all matters relating to the conservation of the state's natural resources. The Commission is composed of representatives from various state agencies, including the Department of Game and Fish, the Department of Environment, and the Department of Agriculture. It also includes representatives from the public and from the academic community. The Commission's recommendations are based on the best available scientific information and on the needs of the state. It is the Commission's policy to encourage the development and use of natural resources in a manner that is consistent with the long-term health and well-being of the state.
