SUPPLEMENT TO THE OIL CONSERVATION COMMISSION

The following is a list of the oil conservation measures which have been adopted by the National Oil Conservation Commission since its organization in 1911. These measures are of a general nature and are not intended to be exhaustive. They are given for the purpose of showing the progress of the work of the Commission and the results of its efforts to conserve the oil resources of the United States.

1. The Commission has established a system of oil conservation measures which are designed to prevent the waste of oil and to conserve the oil resources of the United States.
