Gentlemen:

Per our telephone conversation on this date I enclose additional information relative to the water analysis from the captioned well.

The enclosed copies of correspondence and tests I am presently conducting are self-explanatory.

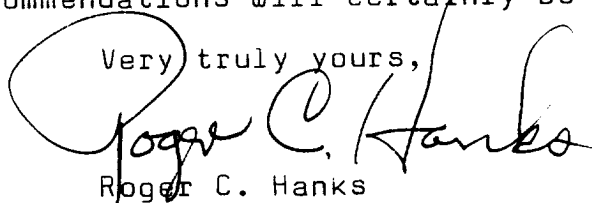

I am respectfully requesting an extension for obvious testing purposes of an additional thirty days of production. At the present time the installation is not operative because of an engine failure.

If the commissioner will allow an additional testing period I will be obliged to furnish all data plus samples of the produced fresh water to a location of your choosing.

The enclosed information indicates quite clearly that additional 72 hour tests will be mandatory prior to determining (1) a disposal system either downhole or surface, or (2) a chemical to properly treat the downhole hydraulic engine and pump.

Your patience and recommendations will certainly be appreciated.

Very truly yours,

Roger C. Hanks
