Gentlemen:

The gas supplement for the above referenced well was received in this office with a note attached, requesting that this well be re-tested.

A four-point test was conducted on the subject well during initial completion and good point alignment was obtained. The test was run, utilizing one hour flow rates. Stabilization was obtained on these flow rates, but this fact was not pointed out at the time the test was submitted.

If any further information is desired, please advise this office.

Very truly yours,
