1. Does the acreage dedicated to the subject well by subject parties have any other parties with an interest in it?
2. If so, what one lease is dedicated to the well, outline terms and identify the ownership, leasehold interest and result?
3. If more than one lease of different ownership is being used to the well, do the leasehold interests have any other parties with an interest in it, such as mineral, oil, gas, water, etc.?

Yes No If answer is "Yes" type of consideration

If answer is "No" list the owners and tract leasehold interests and state whether any other parties have an interest in the acreage.

All work to be assigned to the well must be completed before the well is drilled. The well must be drilled within the time specified in the lease and must be completed within the time specified in the lease.
