PBTD-1484' Well has been shut-in since the acid job. Pressures have been observed on a regular basis. The bradenhead has 0 psi. The casing pressure and the tubing pressure will not build up to be measured. A study is still being completed and the result of this will either cause the well to be fracked and tested or the well will be plugged and abandoned.

Permission to keep the shut-in status until a decision has been made is requested.
