Re: Dikes around tanks

Gentlemen:

Due to concern about the possibility of oil pollution within the drainage area of the Farmington Lake reservoir, this office is requiring that operators construct dikes around their tanks which are located in the drainage area. These dikes will form a reservoir with a capacity one third larger than the capacity of the enclosed tanks.

Your company operates the following well, which has a tank within the lake drainage area:

John Schumacker #2 M-8-30N-12W

If you have any questions, please contact this office.

Yours truly,

Frank T. Chavez
District supervisor
