PHYSICS 551

PHYSICS 551 is a course in quantum mechanics. It covers the basic principles of quantum mechanics, including wave mechanics, matrix mechanics, and the theory of angular momentum. The course is designed for students who have completed a course in classical mechanics and are interested in the foundations of quantum physics.

PHYSICS 551: QUANTUM MECHANICS

The course is divided into several sections, each covering a different aspect of quantum mechanics. The first section deals with the wave function and the Schrödinger equation. The second section covers the theory of angular momentum and the addition of angular momenta.

The third section discusses the harmonic oscillator and the hydrogen atom.

The fourth section covers the theory of scattering and the partial wave expansion.

The fifth section deals with the theory of perturbation theory.

The sixth section covers the theory of identical particles and the Pauli exclusion principle.

The seventh section discusses the theory of relativistic quantum mechanics.

The eighth section covers the theory of quantum entanglement and Bell's theorem.

The course is taught by Professor [Name], who is an expert in the field of quantum mechanics. The course is highly regarded by students and faculty alike for its rigorous treatment of the subject.
