THE HISTORY OF THE CITY OF BOSTON

The city of Boston, situated on a neck of land between the harbor and the bay, was first settled by a few Englishmen in 1630. It grew rapidly, and by 1690 it had become one of the largest and most important cities in the colonies. The city was the center of the Puritan movement, and it was here that the first American Revolution was fought. The city was also the center of the abolitionist movement, and it was here that the first American abolitionist society was founded.

The city of Boston was the first to be incorporated as a city in 1630. It was the first to have a mayor and a city council. It was the first to have a public library, and it was the first to have a public school. It was the first to have a public hospital, and it was the first to have a public park. It was the first to have a public water supply, and it was the first to have a public sewerage system.
