Re: Case Nos. 25462-25466 (David) & 25541-25542 (Goliath) – Competing applications for compulsory pooling filed by Tumbler Operating Partners, LLC and Marathon Oil Permian, LLC

Dear Hearing Examiner Chakalian:

Tumbler files this Revised Supplemental Exhibit D-16 to provide the examiners and the parties with the complete email threads of communications between the parties, which include each email contained in the Tumbler Operating Partners, LLC's Supplemental Exhibit D-16 (Emails) previously filed on October 7, 2025. The process we used to streamline Exhibit D-16 was to (1) eliminate any email in a string except the email that contained the entire string and (2) sort the remaining email strings by the date of the last email in the string.

Please feel free to contact me if you have any questions.

Very truly yours,

/s/ Sharon T. Shaheen

Farley,

Thanks for the update on the spud timing. These wells are part of a $1 billion non-op and minerals fund complex. We'd like to work with MRO on portfolio optimization to explore areas where we can mutually benefit.

Do you have available windows tomorrow through Thursday to discuss over Zoom?

Hi Farley,

Following back up on the below—I'm with Stronghold Investment Management and one of our portfolio companies, Tumbler Operating Partners, has about ~110 acres in sec 24 & 25 of 26S-34E under the Goliaths. We see recent permits on NMOCD for Goliath 602 and 701.

Do you have availability Tuesday or Wednesday for a short call to discuss drill timing here?

Hey Chris,

The Goliaths have been moved about 18 months out on our rig schedule as of right now. Planning is still working through some scenarios on timing but that's where we stand as of now. I recently took these wells over from Sam Cox but would be happy to hop on a call next week and see what else I could try and answer.

I'm wide open next Tuesday, is there a time before 3pm that would work for you there?

Hi Farley and Chase,

Following up here to grab some time either this week or next to discuss timing on the Goliath 602 & 701. We have about 110 acres under them and would like to understand assumptions and go over potential options.

Also, Stronghold is a $1B minerals and non-op fund complex; we see exceptional opportunities in mutually beneficial deals and would like to discuss.

Sam,

Thanks for helping us out with the development plan. Here is what we think we can do now—for each incremental well TIL'd in 2025 above the current 6 permitted, we would [REDACTED] Marathon, for [REDACTED] [REDACTED] NMA from Tumbler (i.e., if MRO were to TIL all 24 wells in 2025, they would [REDACTED] [REDACTED] NMA). We would also [REDACTED] NMA for every well drilled in 2026. We think the [REDACTED] NMA is worth about [REDACTED] in value to Marathon, just for increasing the timing density of a pad it was already going to drill! Alternatively, we would also be willing to buy the entire MRO position in Sections 23, 24, 36 for the same price of [REDACTED]

Additionally, we are working through our plan to clean up more of the small WI and ORRI in the Goliath unit. We are continuing to work on consolidating the position and really hope this is the first deal of many in a long partnership with you guys.

Hi Sam,

For sure, no problem—50% is 76.7 NRA to be exact. The [REDACTED] encompasses the commissions that Stronghold pays to our buyers for sourcing and closing deals and the minimum overhead costs associated with the transactions. From a P&L perspective to Stronghold, we would not be profiting off Marathon. Our intent here is to show that we want to be a good partner to Marathon by bringing opportunities as they arise which we think can deliver Marathon attractive returns while also aligning our mutual interest in future development. Understand on timing, please keep us in the loop and happy to work through it.

Thanks,
Chris

Chris,

Want to make sure I understand here. The total amount of NRA we could purchase is 76.5 NRA correct? Is the [REDACTED] a finders fee for Stronghold here?

I don't think we can commit to anything by this Thursday, but I'll see if the team likes the deal.

Hi Sam,

It was great catching up with you this afternoon. I'm following up via email to summarize our discussion.

We are continuing to build our position in the Goliath Unit. To help Marathon to build its NRI in the Goliath Unit, we are open to assigning Marathon a portion of the interests we are acquiring at our purchase price plus 5% to cover our cost and commissions.

The next deal we have in the pipeline is ~153 NRA in Sections 24 and 25. Marathon's purchase price would be [REDACTED] and we would be willing to assign up to half of the NRA acquired in this deal. We are closing this deal on [REDACTED] and we can commit to this pricing for Marathon up until closing.

Please let me know if you have any questions or would like to discuss further. Safe travels and have an awesome rest of your trip.

Thanks,
Chris

Could you please send us copies of the operational reports and daily production reports? Also, how do we get set up with receiving ongoing current reports to wellinfo@strongholdim.com?

Are there any future plans for additional workovers in the well?

Hi Sean,

My name is Chris Villarreal, and I am with Stronghold Investment Management. We are non-op working interest partners in the Goliath Unit through our portfolio company, Tumbler Operating Partners, and we are excited about the upcoming development. Would you have time for a short call this afternoon or later this week? We would like to understand COP's outlook for the unit.

We are also consolidating owners within the unit and we would like to put together a deal to acquire COP's interest. We are open to mutually beneficial deal structures and curious if this is something COP would be interested in.

Please let me know a good time for a call.

Thanks,
Chris

Subject: RE: Tumbler Operating Partners - Goliath 24 Fed Com - Well Proposal Questions

Farley – we have a couple requests on the JOA – I'd be happy to jump on a call tomorrow to discuss further, if you're available.

In regard to the JOA body, Art. II, can we please list the oil & gas leases? We believe the burdens of record should also be listed or at least referenced.

Art. III. B, can you elaborate what is meant by "all existing burdens on its share of the production from the Contract Area up to, but not in excess of each party's own burdens,"? Just want to understand how this would work in practice.

Art. VI. A, update initial well date to 6/1/2025

Art. VIII. C, could we please update to 30 days. Additionally, can we discuss the possibility of entering into a letter agreement about article VIII. C? if you have a couple minutes to visit on this, I can go into detail.

Art. XVI. 4, remove "or the drilling of a proposed well on the Contract Lands" as it is unclear if this conflicts with non-consent elections under article VI.

Art. XVI. 8, remove "unless it is appropriate and necessary to withhold such payments because of outstanding issues of ownership, title, litigation, possible third-party claims or any other reason that bring into question who the proper payee may be." This is handled by New Mexico statute.

For COPAS, Art. I. III, I think its fair to update all time periods from 15 days to 30 days.

Art. II. 6.A, can we see if we can get this updated from 12% to 8%, please.

Art. III, we request to include "marketing of hydrocarbons" to the list of items covered by overhead.

Lastly, on Exhibit D, we would like to be covered by Marathon's insurance, including well control insurance.

Let me know if you have time tomorrow or sometime this week to discuss.

Thanks!

Hey Chris,

Totally appreciate those concerns. Have a lunch meeting today so won't make the call this morning.

Since COP intends to develop this unit in the near future, though not in 2025, we're not interested in divesting this position or any interest here. Right now, our asset team is evaluating how COP will most effectively develop this unit, so can't speak to exact well placement in individual units just yet, but we will re-apply for pooling.

As to the Madera wells, we're aware of our options to maintain the Federal and State leases in this unit. During this transition period, the Marathon transition team is primarily handling operations on these wells and has access to the production data, and we're coordinating with them across the board. Neither they nor COP will allow those leases to expire.

Hope this helps, let me know if anything else comes up!

Thank you,

Hi Caroline,

Thank you for the follow-up. Let's keep the meeting on the calendar for tomorrow. We are ready to pursue all options to ensure that this unit is developed in the immediate future, and we would like to be a trusted partner with COP in the development. If COP is not willing to develop the unit this year, please advise is COP if willing to entertain commercial agreements to divest the position in any form or cede operatorship so that development can be pulled forward.

Our portfolio entity, Tumbler Operating Partners has elected to participate in Goliath 301, 302, 501, & 502, which were proposed under the pooling order. There are four pooling orders issued to Marathon for Goliath (below). Are you anticipating attempting to re-pool all four Horizontal Spacing Units or, prior to the expiration of order R-22692 and R-22692-A, will you be drilling the four wells that have already been proposed?

As you know, Madera 24 Fed #1 is the important well for the unit, and the well which we proposed workovers on to MRO last year. We are concerned that COP has taken over operatorship and does not have access to daily production data, as you stated.

1. What are the field personnel & production engineer continuity plans to ensure that this well's production is monitored & optimized?
2. How is COP currently producing this well?
3. What is COP's plan to maintain (or increase) production from the well?

Thank you for your attention to these items & looking forward to talking more tomorrow.

Chris

Good morning, Chris!

Checked with our asset team, we don't have access to most Marathon data yet and can't see production internally for those Madera wells, however the OCD is showing production on these through November.

The Marathon transition team is handling those wells right now, so I'll get with them to ensure they remain active. Highly doubt their team or ours would allow Fed/State leases to expire either way, especially with COP planning to develop there in the near future.

For timing on Goliath, no solid spud date yet. Either way we'll need to re-apply for pooling as mentioned yesterday.

Let's go ahead and cancel tomorrow's call and I'll let you know when I have any updates.

Thanks so much,

Hi Caroline,

Hope the weekend went well. I will be meeting with some of our partners in Midland this week and I'm checking to see if you would be available for lunch on Thursday. It would be great to catch up on any new developments in the Goliath plan and I'd also like to highlight some of the work that we do at Stronghold where there could be benefit to COP. I'm fairly flexible on timing if lunch doesn't work, just let me know and we can get something on the calendar.

Hi Caroline,

Thank you for confirming that COP recognizes Madera 24 Federal #1 as the sole well holding the federal lease in the Goliath unit. Given this fact, the well's current production, and COP's ownership of 686 acres in the core undeveloped Stateline unit, we hope COP is working diligently to spud new wells in the immediate future.

Stronghold, through Tumbler Operating Partners, owns 142 acres in Goliath and is exploring all possible avenues to expedite development. We are eager to remain a trusted partner with COP, but we need more clarity regarding COP's plans for this unit. Our primary concerns are as follows:

1. Declining Production

- Madera 24 Federal #1 produced 51 BO in December. This fell by 24% to 38 BO in January. Based on current rates, February is on track for a further 55% drop to 17 BO.
- Please see the attached PDS export (covering 1/1/24 to present) for production data prior to this.

2. Clarification on PDS Data

- Surface Equipment: From 1/22/25 through 2/9/25, the Downtime Reason (Column P) was noted as "Gas Lift Surface Equipment." On 2/10/25, it changed to "Separator." Could you clarify what is happening at the surface?
- Downtime Hours vs. Reported Production: On 1/29/25 and 2/4/25, downtime (Column O) was listed at 24 hours, yet there was reported oil production of 2.1 and 2.5 BO, respectively. How can the well produce if downtime is listed at 24 hours? How is the well currently operated and how is production being recorded?
- Production Gaps: Since 1/21/25 (over 21 days), the well has only produced on five of those days, yielding a total of 14 BO. Is there a downhole issue?

3. Concerns About Future Workovers

- MRO attempted a workover on this well in October following a proposal from Stronghold. Another successful workover seems uncertain.
- Given the well's current condition and associated risks, relying solely on Madera 24 Fed #1 to maintain the lease—rather than promptly drilling new wells—appears highly risky.

Please let me know your availability to discuss Goliath. Would you also be open to connecting me with a production engineer to review the situation at Madera 24 Fed #1?

Thanks,
Chris

Sure thing, here's what I've got right now:

1. The Madera 24 Federal 1, holding the Federal lease across Sections 24 & 25, and the Madera 36 State 1 holding the State lease in Section 36
2. Not sure what that's about- in the last 30 days neither well has ceased producing for longer than 10 days which flag it in our down well report, so not seeing any reason for concern there
3. What report do you have? Think we might be looking at different things, not sure where you're seeing downtime in addition to production numbers

Hi Caroline,

No problem on Thursday—safe travels out to Santa Fe. I'm in Midland through Friday and also available to meet then. Just let me know a good time.

Also, thank you for checking in with the MRO transition team to verify production on Goliath lease. Couple questions here though:

1. When you say the Madera wells are still producing, which wells are you referring to? I just want to crosscheck our notes on what we each show to be lease holders.
2. The Madera 24 Fed #1 production report shows a down time reason of Gas Lift Surface Equipment. But there is still reported production. Can you provide details on what the issue is?
3. I see days on Madera 24 Fed #1 where there are 24.0 reported downtime hours but also recorded oil and/or gas production. How should I interpret this?

Thanks,
Chris

Hi Juan,

My name is Chris Villarreal, and I am with Stronghold Investment Management in Dallas. We are a ~10% working interest partner in the Goliath Unit through our portfolio company, Tumbler Operating Partners. As you probably know, the Madera 24 Fed #1 is a critical well to maintaining this unit. We monitor production daily in PDS and have a few questions about the production reports and the overall disposition of the well.

Do you have 15 minutes sometime tomorrow or Wednesday for a short call to discuss the well?

We would like to ensure that our interests remain aligned on the development. We have a couple of ideas regarding trades and avenues to increase COP's Goliath interests. Please let us when a good time to discuss would be.

Thank you for sending over Juan's contact information. I spoke with him on Friday and we are glad to hear that he is monitoring Madera and that leadership, including Sean, are keeping a close eye on the well. ("Sean stopped me in the gym and talked to me for ten minutes about the importance of Madera")

Regarding Goliath plans, we are disappointed to hear that they are not part of the 2025 drill schedule. As partners with you here, we would like to help solve problems. We also understand the importance of generating cashflow from newly purchased assets, like Marathon, as quickly as possible. If this is a rig availability issue, we would be open to picking up a rig to COP specs and working through arrangements so that wells are drilled to COP standards, with COP oversight and involvement. The rig would just be under the Tumbler banner. Would love to hop on a call and talk through potential arrangements if this is something that might interest COP. Please let me know and we can set up a time.

Sean,

Understood. Given COP's desire to let the pooling expire and the positioning outlined below, we believe it is most prudent for Tumbler to pursue operatorship.

Please let me know if you have any questions regarding the 31 well proposals, which should be arriving today.

Chris,

I can understand our non-op positions would be of interest. However, my team and I don't have the time to go through our various portfolio to put a trade schedule together for your consideration. If Stronghold wants to pitch a trade deal please send in an offer with the specifics to the interests. In all candor, our non-op budget is considerable and we value our near-term non-op positions with good operators such as the ones you listed, which is to say a trade would have to be rather attractive to consider. But you never know till you propose.

Thanks,
Sean P. Miller, CPL

Sean,

We'd be interested in COP non-op positions that are heavy on PDP, DUCs, & permits in the state line area. Preference to Mewbourne, Matador, or Oxy as operators.

Without knowing full breadth of the COP non-op position, we are initially thinking Paduca, Big Sink, and Fuller.

Do you have other options you would like considered?

Sean,

Thank you for the reply. I understand and appreciate that you do not have clear line of sight on development timing. Our goals have always been to 1) ensure the lease remains intact, which we've done by proposing operations to MRO and highlighting Madera production to your team (we are grateful to you and Juan for keeping your eye on the well). And 2) get development started in the unit. Along this line, we are interested in talking trades as we work through the path forward. I know the COP WI/NRI position in Goliath is not ideal. Our leasehold and override position would make this a more attractive location on the COP drill schedule. If this is something you are interested in, let us know what days next week work and I can come by the office.

Thanks,
Chris

Chris,

As your conversations with Caroline and Juan confirm, Conocophillips recognizes the importance of this project and it is absolutely in plan for our development of this area. While COP acquired Marathon and their assets, we did not acquire their drill schedule. All their projects are being married with our legacy projects in the most efficient way possible given our capital guidance. An understanding of that situation and the fact we have such a large portfolio of New Mexico inventory competing for capital is needed to explain why COP is not developing the project this year. You correctly point out that the pooling orders will expire in May, that is unfortunately unavoidable as they have been already previously extended by Marathon. What is not expiring this year is the permits and based on our planning discussions with our development team, COP plans to develop within the timeframe of the permit term with a tentative earliest estimate of drilling in 2026. This is clearly not what you are wanting to hear but is just the consequence of the Marathon and COP acquisition in season of capital focus.

You allude to re-evaluations, opportunities for you and other groups. I'm not sure what you are specifically trying to tell me and Caroline or if you are trying to pressure us into a discussion without a specific substantive goal. If you have commercial opportunities for Conocophillips to acquire more interest in this unit then please send over any proposals you have and we will be happy to evaluate. However, if that is not the case, please understand that Caroline and I are being transparent about COP's development of the Goliath unit as it currently stands in our drill schedule and can provide no more new information.

Thanks,
Sean P. Miller, CPL

Sean,

We all know the Goliath Unit holds some of the best rock in the Permian and needs to be developed in the very near term. Our aim is, and has always been, to create solutions that provide meaningful value for everyone involved.

The groundwork is already in place with permits approved and pooling orders secured. Everything needed to proceed is ready. But perplexingly, the willingness to act is missing. Letting it sit stalls progress and erodes value for all parties.

The existing pooling orders expire in May. This creates a natural point of re-evaluation and a potential new path forward—one that presents opportunity for us and others closely watching this position. We are meeting with several partners and groups pursuing trades that are aligned on near-term development and pursuing operations. The level of interest reinforces the widely recognized potential of this acreage.

If you are ready to sit down and have a substantive discussion about the future of Goliath, let us know.

Sean,

Thanks for the clarification. I understand COP's position, and I am confident that you understand ours. Regardless of the outcome, we are committed to being a trusted partner.

If conditions change and COP would like to explore a deal, I am always available to talk... Will even book another jet to make a 7am breakfast.

Stronghold entities own across the basin, and I'm certain there is enough overlap that there will be additional opportunities in the future to create value together.

Chris,

Good to meet you and Walt yesterday as well.

I think you've misinterpreted COP's stated position. While it is true that typically in that area of Lea County there are some zones historically more productive than others, COP will evaluate all zones and based on the economics, will develop as much as we deem will provide value. Apologies if I gave the impression that it was exclusive to just two intervals at this time.

That said, COP will vigorously pursue our goal of operating and developing this project and there are no plans currently to divest our interest in this project.

Sean,

It was nice meeting you at breakfast yesterday.

As discussed, Tumbler filed for pooling today. Given COP's stated position at breakfast—planning to develop only the Third Bone Spring and Wolfcamp with a 2027 spud—we cannot remain idle. Tumbler will continue to vigorously pursue operatorship, as we believe this approach best serves the interests of all stakeholders.

We would welcome COP as a partner in the full development of the David Unit. However, if this is not aligned with COP's objectives, please share a preferred structure for divesting COP's interest. As we've expressed previously, we aim to be excellent partners to COP and are focused on maximizing value for all parties involved. Let us know what COP values in a deal structure, and we'll work to get this done.

Sean,

Could also do breakfast on Tuesday before heading to the H&P yard, if that works for you.

Good afternoon Caroline – we received the updated Goliath proposals in the mail today. Noticed on the well election portion a few of the wells say “Montera”. Just wanted to confirm intent that they should say Goliath? If so, will you be circulating updated versions?

Thanks!
