Baseball Cap Fed Com #26H – Case 15831 / R-14521
Sec. 24 & 25-T24S-R35E, Lea County, NM

Dear Mr. Solomon:

EOG Y Resources, Inc. demands that COG Operating LLC comply with the terms of the above referenced orders. In Paragraph 10 of both orders, COG is required to provide notice to the working interest owners. In the case of both referenced wells, COG has failed to do this by mailing the notice and associated paperwork necessary to participate in the wells to a non-existent entity, Yates Petroleum Corporation. COG has direct knowledge that a name change has occurred and the proper entity name is EOG Y Resources, Inc., 5309 Champions Drive, Midland, TX 79706. At this time, we request you correct this error so that we may make a proper election under the proposal.

Furthermore, based on the error COG made, we note that you are probably miscounting our timing under the election period of the respective orders. We believe a new 30 day period is due under Paragraph 10 once we are delivered the proper paperwork in compliance with the orders.

If you have any questions please contact the undersigned at 432-686-3722 or clay_haggard@eogresources.com.

Yours truly,
EOG Resources, Inc.
